X-13-1 2001 Convention Opener

This year's convention opener was modeled after an A-10-1 Muehlebach figural eagle opener. The opener has 4 colors on brass and can be ordered from Don Whelan for $20.00 plus $2.00 shipping. Send to Don Whelan, 3216 S 51st Pl, Lincoln NE 68506 (note Don's new address).

2001 Convention St Joe, Mo. (23rd JFO Convention) (April 18th-22nd, 2001)

Cora and I would like to thank all members who attended the 23rd annual convention in St. Joseph. We enjoyed seeing you all and hope it was as enjoyable for you as it was for us.

We appreciate all who contributed in some way – assistance, goody bag and/or raffle items, and food for the hospitality room. I know it's not wise to list names, especially since so many offered to help, but here goes. Thanks to the Danzigers, Gormallys, Hibbelers, Hoffmans, Jays, Queens, Stahllys, Vollraths, Gary Deachman, Bob Post, John Mlady, and a special thanks to John and Pat Stanley for numerous contributions and assistance.

We look forward to seeing you in Virginia for the 24th annual convention. Don & Cora Whelan.

2002 Convention Fredericksburg VA (24th JFO Convention) (April 24th-30th, 2002)

Larry Moter has contract in hand ($65 room rate). Details in the October issue.

Members Update

Bill Hanold is recovering slowly as he still has problems with his hip. He is even back at work. Hopefully he will continue to improve and once again attend a future JFO convention.

Spouse's Corner

by Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

John tells me that the JFO Convention issue is due. Convention seems so long ago, but many great memories are with us forever! Then we had the good fortune of having a little mini convention last week with the Ollie and Shirley Hibbeler when they stopped in North Carolina for a visit. No gambling around here, but hopefully Shirley had as good a time as I did. We know Ollie did as we almost had to give him a bib for all the drooling he did over John's collection. I'm sure Ollie will send his thoughts for the next newsletter. And best of all, Ollie was looking very well, much improved than he looked at convention when a cold had him down. Shirley always looks great too.

The Hibbeler's had been to the ABA Convention in Charlotte, NC. John was there too. Bob Post roomed with him. Post is much nicer than I am. When John stated his preference to keep the air conditioning on full blast, cool...Bob agreed that's the way he likes it too. On Saturday, after packing up, John went up to the room a few hours later and noticed that the air was not on meat locker cold since his departure earlier. Poor Post. Use it against John in your next trade!

It took me almost two hours to review the newsletters from 1986, a great year for the JFO publication. Membership was growing, there were 472 new additions and Bill McKenzie volunteered to do the "Opener Trivia". I caught myself wanting to read ahead to the next quarter to find out the answers. The official Just for Openers patch was finally a reality and available for a small price.

A book was reviewed that I hope John has, as I'd like to read it...yes, he is asleep, so I can't ask. The book is "Don Bull's Beer Trivia". The review said that knowing the answers can make you an authority on the subject. Well, that would be nice, since John is such a walking encyclopedia.

It was reported that the St. Louis Opener Club held it's November meeting in Art Santen's HEAVY METAL basement. The Christmas party was held in John Goff's BRASS basement. Gee, we don't even have a basement, just a CLAY crawl space!

A survey had been included in the October '85 issue. A B-2-1A Blatz was offered as a prize to the closest guess on the "total" amount of openers reported in ALL collections. The actual count was 130,479 with Harriet Waldo being the winner with her guess of 126,320.

The survey also collected information on the ages of JFO members. The youngest was 13 and the eldest was 83. The breakdown was: 10-20=3; 21-30=6; 31-40=26; 41-50=50; 51-60=32; 61-70=23; 71-80=4; and 81-90=1. Since none of our members have aged, the results would be the same in 2001, right?

Members had been collecting anywhere from 4 months to 40 years.

The printer that handled the printing of "The Handbook of Beer Advertising Openers and Corkscrews", had a section in a newsletter they mail out, titled "Some jobs are just screwy." The short article then stated, "But this is the screwiest one yet!". It went on to tell a little about the 500 copies they had printed and binded.

A write up in The Hays Daily News featured Eldon Gregg. One opener shape in his collection is a loaf of bread. Now, John you know I like bread....do you (we) have one of those flat figurals?

The April Opener Trivia asked for additional information about the bottle opener advertisement A.J. Cermak gave away with "For Beer and Wine" engraved on the front when he was seeking election to U.S. Senator.

The July issue included a lot of information about A.J. Cermak. Very interesting! He was mayor of Chicago from 1931-1933, the year in which he died, a victim in an assassination attempt on President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was a Bohemian immigrant who vehemently opposed prohibition.

Ed Kaye was living in Chicago at the time and has a very vivid memory of the event .

The July issue was absolutely packed with great articles and information. Ken Keown, son of Vic and Mary Ann had made plaque clocks for the 1986 convention, along with a Service Award made for Ed Kaye. We know the Keown kids are a great help as they and Mary Ann continue without Vic.

One convention attendee won a raffle prize that was an IRTP, Internal Revenue Tax Paid painted label 7 ounce amber beer bottle. The security x-ray at the airport showed it as a "possible incendiary". In the end, it was permitted on board!

I have never seen John's collection cause as much stir as it did when we were flying out of Florida after the 2000 JFO Convention in Naples. They just got downright nasty with John.

Then, too...in St. Joe, the second time I came through security, after taking Corkie out for a potty break, they searched my purse. I asked why it wasn't searched the first time through. I was told that they just selected it randomly, that they wanted to see my little dog! Thanks, Corkie!!

Ed Kaye had written Jim Hollinger to find out why he had an A-9 on his collecting card. Now, Ed, other people can collect baseball players too! It turned out that Jim signed a contract with the New York Yankees after high school as a pitcher. He spent three years in their farm system, so that is why the Schell's opener was on his card.

Just as we wondered, why Ed collects A-9s, the answer appeared in the newsletter. His wife Eileen is an ardent baseball fan and suggested that he collect them. Did you ever regret that suggestion, Eileen? Sometimes men do listen to us, but not real often.

More information was listed about the October '85 survey. Members were asked to list their occupations, other than Addicted Collector. I could pick out several of them and figure out who had listed the occupation. But, another neat thing about JFO is that what you do for a living isn't important. You are an opener/corkscrew collector, therefore you are a success!! The JFO crowd is made up of some great down-to-earth people, who just like you for being you.

That survey also brought it to Ed's attention that a lot of members specialize in corkscrews and wanted to feature "screws" in an edition of JFO. I'll look for articles on "flat heads" and "phillip heads" in future newsletters.

Joe Paradi, sent in a report on the 86 Convention. He said that Bill McKenzie brought along about 3000 items to convention. Goodness!! Vern Vollrath had weighed his traders and it came to 180 lbs of openers, corkscrews and lifters which he put on the floor of his car as it represented another passenger weight. Before we drive to Virginia next year for JFO, let's weigh what you are taking John, the openers that is!

Larry Biehl told about another sidelight to the JFO convention that year. Free gasoline was being given away across the street as a promotion for a local FM station. That was nice, but an advertising opener would have been better!

Check out July 1986 if you want to go back and read the two page article on the Early "No Opener Needed" Cans. Detailed pictures are included. Those cones must have been expensive to produce. I know they are expensive to buy now, but some are in John's collection.

October '86 included another airport security story. An odd object in the member's wife's purse, a stay on tab can opener, caused an alarm. The passenger behind the collectors exclaimed, "It's a church key!". I'm sure that helped security figure out what it was.

Alex Redl, Beatrice, NE sent in some notes for the newsletter, including some more info on Cermak. Cermak only lost to Otis F. Glenn in a vote of 1,594,031 to 1,315,338. Maybe they should have had a re-count!

Alex also told about 4 Burkhardt openers he found. He went on to explain that they mean a lot to him, as he had never realized that he grew up and went fishing with the grandson of his hometown brewer, Burkhardt of Akron. Now, if Alex talked as much then as he did at JFO 2001, they didn't catch any fish!!!

Oh, my...it's almost 11:30. I even missed the news and weather, so wrapped up in JFO!! There is still a lot of info I have not covered, so I'll write a little more tomorrow night. Until then, may you have pleasant dreams of openers.

I'm back! John is busy selecting pictures of the JFO Convention for this newsletter, so I am allowed to take over the computer during his absence.

In the October '86 article, "Getting a handle on the cork", I found it interesting that some corkscrews have nutmeg graters on them, perhaps to grate the spice once used to disguise wretched wine.

The article goes on to say that your current corkscrew criterion should be simple: It must work. I bet Don Bull has some that are nice to look at, but don't fit this criterion very well.

"It's an inventor's dream to find the ideal way of parting cork and bottle." .." When you consider how much a cork expands to fill a bottle neck and the number of pulled muscles that are suffered daily by people wrenching at particularly stubborn specimens, you will appreciate why so many hundreds of ingenious individuals have set themselves the task of inventing quicker, easier and more efficient devices than ever before."

No one seems to know for sure who first invented the corkscrew. Perhaps it was designed after the worm used in the 17th and 18th centuries for cleaning and extracting bullets from muzzle-loading guns.

Don Bull submitted an article on "Beer Advertising Corkscrews" and "Adolphus Busch Knife Corkscrews" for the October issue. Beer advertising corkscrews date further back in time than bottle cap lifters per the first article. The most commonly found beer advertising corkscrews are the wood T-handle type P-8 and similar. Pictures of a "peg and worm" corkscrew, roundlets, pump lever type corkscrews (waiters) and twisted wire corkscrews helped me identify some of the items in our home. The knife corkscrews pictured have stanhopes, picturing Adolphus. Yes, I have I seen some like that!

The quarterly Opener Trivia included drawings of knife openers that appeared in an article written by Dennis Ellingsen for the May 1986 issue of Knife World

Yes, indeed, the October 1986 issue is one to remember!!!

John is finished with his selection of pictures, so I must give back "our" computer and give my stamp of approval on the pictures.

Until next time, take care!

"Boxes Full of Corkscrews" by Donald A. Bull (Now Available See Last Page)
Boxes Full of Corkscrews has 256 pages with a whopping 836 color photographs and it is a large format (9" x 12") hardbound book. The book is divided into 36 chapters and there is a complete index (see Sale Ads).

Pocket-sized books provide lowdown on sharp collectibles

★ Collectible Pocket Knives, by Dominique Pascal, Flammarion, Paris, France. U.S. contact (212) 691-9707, 382 pages, softcover, $14.95 — Have a pocket knife? Enjoy viewing pocket knives? If the answer is yes, this is the book for you.

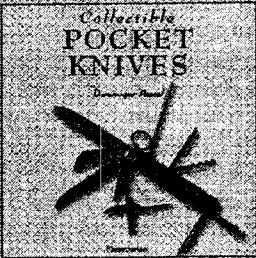

Readers will find a detailed introduction on how knives were made over the years, and the book provides a glossary of knife terms and contact information for knife collecting clubs and museums.

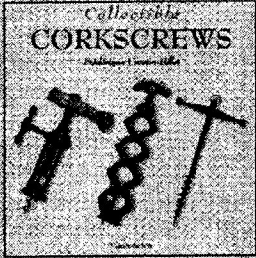

Fabulous, full-color photos provide great detail, with captions detailing each one. A handy little book.

★ Collectible Corkscrews, by Frédérique Crestin-Billet, Flammarion, Paris, France. U.S. contact (212) 691-9707, 382 pages, softcover, $14.95 — Corkscrews can have a personality all their own. And apparently by looking at the ones pictured in this book, many have just that. Readers will find many interesting corkscrews few collectors even knew existed.

This is very similar to the pocket knives book in layout, information and size.

Enjoy the history of corkscrews, and you might be surprised at the rather graphic nature of some of the samples.

JFO 23rd Annual Convention St Joseph MO (April 18-22 2001)

Once the New Year starts the JFO Convention comes quickly. Don and Cora Whelan were hosting the convention in St. Joe, MO. Besides our normal baggage including the bag for openers, we flew to St. Joe with "Corkie the Yorkie". With her carrying bag and bag of doggie items it looked like we were moving to St. Joe not staying just five nights. Our flight out had a two and a half hour stopover in Cincinnati and we arrived in Kansas City at 3:30 CST.

Don and Cora were waiting to pick us up. Just like in 1995 they were gracious enough to run a Kansas City to St. Joe shuttle. We would be spending Tuesday night at their house in Savannah, Mo. They had everything for the convention all set (nothing like having a previous convention host doing the convention for a second time).

Supper was at the Belt Brewing Co. in St. Joe and later that evening, Don and I got down to some opener trading. Half of his basement was set up to display his collection and I spent time checking it out before supper. When we arrived back at his house, I showed Don the precious contents of my opener bag. The trading went fairly fast. Don had a really nice N-44-1 Inland Brewing Co. knife and a F-508 Coca-Cola spoon opener.

In return Don received an A-27-1 Doelger, B-39-1 Bushkill, B-23-38 Falstaff Dublin style and a B-68-1 Cleveland and Sandusky. We spent some time talking about openers and before I knew it, it was 10:30 and bedtime. Cora and Pat had stayed upstairs with Corkie most of the time, but she did venture downstairs a couple of times to check out Don's collection (and on food searches). Except for a 2:30 AM potty trip for Corkie we slept pretty well.

We were up about 6:30 the next morning. Don was already up and making plans for transporting all of the convention supplies and us in his van and car. By 9:00 we had the vehicles loaded up and were ready except for Pat's final makeup preparation (John is having me type this, so I might add that I don't want to look like an antique, although I am quite valuable). Don even took a short nap before Pat had herself ready to go.

The Ramada Inn in St. Joe had been a good site in 1995 and proved to be again in 2001. We pulled into the parking lot about 10:00 and Don was able to get their room and the hospitality room. Pat, Corkie and I were also fortunate to get into our room early. By lunch time we had the hospitality room set up and were ready for early arrivals. Of the 42 officially attending, 26 were to arrive Wednesday.

Room-to-room started up after lunch and even though I did not bring very much (I thought you said you were taking a lot, John), I did make a few sales. Wednesday afternoon usually brings the renewal of old friendships and the making of new ones. The Ramada was very good at putting most of the JFO members on the 1st and 2nd floors of the same part of the hotel. The hospitality room was very convenient and we had a large enclosed pool area to spill out into for the socializing side of the convention. Don and Cora's room was connected to the hospitality room, so members registering for the convention could have a shot at buying from his large selection of openers and corkscrews for sale.

I did make Dick Creuziger happy by selling him a P-2-7 Pabst for $150. You see the miscellaneous P-2s from time to time, but the others are tough to come by. Herb Danziger had a P-1 Strohs that I picked up, but nothing real special the rest of the day.

Don and Cora kept lots of snacks and food in the hospitality room with the main beers being from Boulevard Brewing Company of Kansas City. They had been kind enough to donate 15 cases of beer for the convention. That evening we went with Harold and Boots Queen and Joe and Jackie Young for supper at Apple Bees. Several restaurants and motels were in very close proximity to the Ramada.

Fortunately John (Jeb) Burruss brought his laptop computer and after some initial problems, he was able to sign on late that evening. I checked eBay, but the big item was closing Thursday morning, an A-47-1 Kruger.

I did find out that evening why Bob Stahly's initials are B.S. The story I had in opener trivia in the October 2000 issue about Ollie Hibbeler's unusual Coca Cola wall mount was just that, a bunch of B.S. I guess JFO is really about having fun and Bob had some with the bogus story to rub salt in my wounds. Bob showed me an O-509 Hood Coca-Cola wall mount and first said he had gotten it for $10 on the way to the convention. He then fessed up that he had gotten it off eBay back in February. The week before it closed, he wanted me to tell him how to "snipe" bids on eBay, but he was going to Arizona and I told him I would show him when he got back. The Coca Cola wall mount would be closing while he was away and I figured, one less person to compete with!

The opener closed and I had entered a bid of $113.99 at the last minute, but lost to an unknown competitor at $114.59 (a mere 60 cents more). I was upset but figured that you have to lose sometimes. At the convention Bob tells me a friend bid for him and it was his friend's bid that got the opener. Bob said he laughed all the way home from Arizona. B.S. Bob Stahly strikes again!

Thursday morning Norm Jay and I decided to complete a trade started at Indianapolis. Norm got an L-2 Kolb Bros and I received a B-71-2 Old Colony, an A-19-3 Gutsch and a B-68-1 Cleveland and Sandusky. We had also started another trade. Norm had a B-2-12 United States I wanted. In return, he wanted me to trade some E-4s. In the end and only after Norm spent 10 minutes of silent meditation, we completed this deal. (only 10 minutes???) He received 16 E-4s and in addition to the B-2-12, I got some Pepsi ice tongs, a can opener and $85.

We finished just in time for the group luncheon a Belt Brewing Co., but I decided to stay and help watch the hospitality room. At noon the real convention started with the arrival of John Mlady and Gary Deachman. Those two were rooming together. They like to have a good time and have a lot of good stories to tell (all true, Bob Stahly).

Jim Osborn got checked in and just like last year had a lot of great openers for trading and selling. I ended up trading him an A-54-1 A-B for a B-25 Cooks and an M-3 Henius Service Station.

Later in the afternoon Bill Pattie made it in all the way from Montana, thanks to his dear wife, Lyla and her sister Elda. He once again had his great collection of Montana openers, beer and non-beer. He also had his type collection up for trade, but until Saturday it was for Montana openers only. If by Saturday he had not made a trade, he would sell for the right price.

Even though he had one in his collection, I traded Bill an A-17-28 Bozeman for a B-7-11 Eulberg, a H-10-5 Burkhardt and a G-21-1 K.I.K. Malt. I ended up letting Jim Osborn have the B-7-11 Eulberg and Harriet Waldo the H-10-5, but she got my old one, after I upgraded.

Don Sherman's room was busy most of the afternoon and he seemed to be doing a brisk business. Everyone finding some openers and corkscrews and Jeb Burruss told me that I did get the A-47-1 Krug on eBay for $187.50. Thursday evening was more room-to-room and a lot of socializing in the hospitality room. Some of the women did go gambling without much luck, except for Phyllis Gormally who took over Shirley Hibbeler's machine when Shirley ran out to the car for more money!

Friday morning we left for the Whelan's open house, viewing Don's collection and Cora's Campbell Soup items. We had Pat Stambaugh driving along with Joe Young and Jim Osborn as passengers. I was chief navigator and though Don had given us a decent map and it was only 12 miles, I got us lost coming and going. (This is why I don't let John drive at JFO...his mind is in Opener Heaven). Going out was not too bad, we just had to double back through town. Coming back we went out the old country road back to St. Joe.

Don has his collection displayed in trays that he can easily pull in and out of storage cabinets. He specializes in Schlitz (they are in a large showcase by themselves), Missouri openers and types. I believe most everyone attended and the house was open from 10-2. We left about noon to go back, but since we went the old country road, we missed out on all of the fun at the Jesse James Antique mall. Several corkscrews and openers were bought by JFO members with most coming from the booth of Ray Hanson, a JFO member who lives near Kansas City.

Back at the hotel it was auction time with lots of openers being submitted from 2:30-4. Vern Vollrath and I entered the item information and Pat Stanley and Corkie kept up with the bids, although Corkie slept through most of the auction, only waking up in time to bark at Art Santen with his funny "barrel" hat. Early on we knew it would be a good auction when a G-5-44 Tivoli opener saw spirited bidding. At $30 Kurt Bachmann held his hand up and Verne told him he recognized his bid but Kurt kept his arm up. Kurt said, "I don't care what it costs I want this opener". Everyone laughed and everyone else passed so Kurt got the opener for $30 (this same opener sold on eBay last fall for $172.50, Kurt got a nice buy).

Besides common openers, quite a few good openers were submitted. Highlights are below with the top lot being an A-33-6 Fauerbach and yes your editor was outbid by Mike Krejci, a serious Wisconsin collector who had the winning bid of $210.00. (When eBay closes, Pat often hears, "I got run over by the truck driver again!". Mike came to the convention in an 18 wheeler...to wheel and deal).

The last of lot, a P-44-1 Bartholomay, saw active bidding before Don Whelan took home the piece with a bid of $170. Thank you to all who participated.

Probably the real highlight of the auction was having a hotel employee tell us that a member with "Openers" as the license plate had lost their keys. At first we thought they said at the front desk there were a set of Nebraska plates, but when we were corrected, we asked if anyone had lost their keys. I said that Ben Hoffman had "Openers" on his plates and sure enough Ben was searching his pockets. When asked, "Ben, did you lose your keys?" Dead-faced Ben replied, "No, they're at the front desk". Everyone roared with laughter.

Gary Deachman and I helped as auctioneer Vern ran another great auction. It lasted an hour and forty-five minutes and everyone had a grand time (especially those gambling women, a couple of whom fell asleep during the auction).

Friday evening was a little slow on the room-to-room trading. Todd Milano did get an old college friend, Craig Garwood, From St. Joe, to join JFO. A lot of members seemed to enjoy the hospitality room as Don and Cora had a great selection of beer, soft drinks, water and snacks. Like other nights, it was open until 11:00.

Saturday morning came and the pool area outside the hospitality room was set up with tables for our Public Show. Tables are on a first-come first-serve basis. By now my opener pile was fairly small, but it was nice seeing so many tables full of openers. Thirteen members entered the main display contest and five entered the Bill McKenzie, "Best in Show Award" contest. Art Santen won the regular display with his "Transportation Display", Harold Queen was second with his display of Pennsylvania "Bees" and Jim Osborn won third with his display of L-4 bottles. Your editor won the "Bill McKenzie Best of Show" with a P-159-1 Pabst Stanhope Knife with a L-2-15 Molter Bottle entered by Gary Deachman running a close second. Thank you to everyone who entered a display and for sharing parts of their collection.

Don Whelan had 2 tables full of raffle prizes and we spent an hour and a half giving items away. Winners had their pick of the first table and the second table of better items was saved for the end of the raffle. By 12:00, many members were leaving early to head home and by 2:00 the show wrapped up. A nice walk through crowd came and even though we were in the sunny end of the pool area, it was a fun show with time going by quickly.

Most of the members staying over Saturday spent the afternoon at the tables outside the hospitality room. Gary Deachman had a "show and tell" session in his room and I did one at the hospitality room tables. Overall I was pleased with the openers I got at this convention and believe most everyone attending got something for their collection. Norm Jay added 72 to his collection and my official total was 32. Checking since 1996, I have added 1996 (63), 1997 (62), 1998 (57), 1999 (23) and 2000 (37). Remember the JFO Convention is the best place to find good openers and also enjoy a few days of camaraderie with other collectors.

That evening we had a group dinner at the Whiskey Creek restaurant, next door to the hotel. Twenty-three members and their spouses attended with a lot of laughter and good time had by all.

The highlight (which was not a good time) was John Mlady's "near death" choking experience with a cool and calm Gary Deachman looking on and a very scared Barbara Arber jumping up to save John's Life. After a few tense seconds, John was able to swallow and Gary never missed a beat in his meal.

Social hour continued after supper back at the hospitality room, but by 10:00 most everyone turned in as we had several leaving early the next morning. It is always sad saying good-bye to everyone. I just remind myself that a year goes by quickly and it will be time for Fredericksburg, Va. Don't miss out on all of the fun. Make plans to attend next year. Thank you Don and Cora for a great convention and to all of the members for making it a special week every year. We had a 10:00 flight and once again enjoyed the Whelan's limo service. Most of my time flying home was spent writing notes about the convention. Corkie was glad when the plane landed back in Raleigh-Durham.

Two pages of member's wanted items were in the April issue. I have not received feedback from anyone on how successful they were. The closest I came was the A-33-6 Fauerbach (thanks Mike), though since the convention I did get a B-9-5 Mineral Spring on eBay. Also since the convention, Jim Osborn added an A-11-1 Wooden Shoe to his collection, and again through eBay. If any other members had success, please let me know.

Finally many thanks to Sandra Emme, Herb and Camille Danziger, Bob and Marge Stahly and the Whelans for sending convention pictures.

JFO 23rd Annual Convention St Joseph MO (April 18-22 2001) (by Ollie Hibbeler)

My wife Shirley and I left home in Mid-Missouri Wed. morning. We timed our trip to St. Joe to pick up Sandra Emme at the Kansas City airport. We had to wait only 10 minutes. She flew in from Washington D.C. via Minneapolis, Mn. She told us she was recently married, but left her new husband at home this year. She wants to break him in "EASY" with the opener collector bunch. Can we blame her? (Editor's Note: I sure wished I had thought of that with Pat!)

We had 42 members registered with 29 of those members accompanied by family members. Just one more reason I like our opener club. Two of our VERY regular attendees and their wives were missing this year. Our deceased members, Larry Biehl and Vic Keown were with us in spirit – that I am sure of. A prayer was said for both on Saturday. Six attendees were "FIRST TIMERS".

Don and Cora Whelan were the very best hosts, even better than when they were hosts in 1995. We had plenty to eat and drink for 4 days. Boulevard Brewing Co. of Kansas City supplied us with plenty of beer. The convention opener is a real beauty. A stylized version of the A-10-1 Muehlebach. Lots of brass, color and our J.F.O. logo. Don has extras if you want one. Just write him (check front page for details).

Thursday we had lunch at the Belt Brew Pub in St. Joe and traded room-to-room the rest of the day and evening. In between we managed to visit the hospitality room for refreshments. After an AM trip Friday to Savannah, Mo. to view Don and Cora's collections, we returned to the Ramada Inn for our annual auction. The quality seemed better this year. The top two items were an A-33-6 Fauerbach at $210 and a P-44-1 Bartholomay at $160. Verne Vollrath ran the auction as usual with Pat Stanley stepping in for Laverne Vollrath as the auction tracker and our GURU, John Stanley as ring man (with help from Gary Deachman). Good job by all!

JFO 23rd Annual Convention St Joseph MO (April 18-22 2001) (by Ollie Hibbeler)

Saturday we had our B/T/S show. Some of the members were setting up by 7:00 A.M. ! Lots of action all day with some non-member attendees also. Cora had lunch fixings in the hospitality room. We opener collectors just can't lose anytime looking! The displays were numerous. Art Santen won FIRST place as usual. I believe he stays awake at night to think up his different themes. The rest of the evening was spent at the hospitality room telling tall tales, bad jokes and drinking good beer.

I personally sold lots of openers at the show. Sold between 275 to 300 I-Type openers. They were I-4, I-5, I-6 and I-16 thru I-18 (ALL DIFFERENT) for $2.00 each. I bought 20 openers with 9 of these being new styles. The convention is the place to acquire new styles and good listings.

We took Sandy Emme back to the K.C. airport Sunday morning. We only made one stop on our way home. We stopped at Boonville, Mo. at a new antique mall (almost missed it). Found a showcase with about 20 various openers. Bought 4 for $35.00. A A-17-4 Coca-Cola, D-503-UL Cantrell's Ginger Ale, I-501 Donald Duck, and an A-35-34 Moerschel's Sedalia, Mo. Couldn't believe my good luck so soon after the show. Got home at 6 P.M. Very tired but very satisfied. Good to see everyone again and good to get home to my own bed. But already looking forward to 2002 in VIRGINIA. You better BE THERE!

Ollie Hibbeler #149

P.S. Shirley lost at the St. Joe Casino. Phyllis Gormally WON! Hope to see some of the J.F.O. members at the American Breweriana Association (ABA) show in June at Charlotte, N.C. It will be a very good show as always (Ollie's write-up about ABA will be in the next issue).

Almost forgot – Got one of my tough sought-after pieces. The P-1-16 SCHOEHOFEN corkscrew. That alone was worth the trip!

JFO's Dave Gausepohl makes Lexington KY Newspaper (sent in by Thom Thompson)

Beer Cans right stuff for collector Erlanger man has 400,000 brew-related treasures
By Shelly Whitehead THE KENTUCKY POST

Erlanger – Many parents in Dave Gausepohl's Edgewood neighborhood in the late 1970s worried their teen-agers would drink a few cans of beer, then go out and get in trouble.

But Gausepohl's parents worried about how many cans of beer their son was emptying on the ground, just to haul them home to his growing collection.

"No one can really understand it if they're not in it," Gausepohl said.

"We had a lot of battles growing up when they'd say, 'What are ya' gonna do with all these?'"

Look at Gausepohl's home today and you'll understand his parents' concern. It is wall-to-wall miscellany. At last count, Gausepohl had more than 400,000 beer-related treasures in his Erlanger residence.

His parents don't mind his sprawl of specimens so much now because not only are the collectibles out of their house, but many of the items are worth thousands of dollars.

Gausepohl presides over the 200-member Queen City Chapter of the Beer Can Collectors of America, where he is known simply as "Beer Dave."

The group just wrapped up its annual convention, held over St. Patrick's Day weekend in Fort Mitchell.

"Most collectors specialize, because of space concerns if nothing else," said Gausepohl, surveying his collectible-covered walls. "I've never even had a car in my garage in the 13 years I've been here.

"To me, this is like some kind of museum. But I don't see this as a nest egg. This is my child."

"Opener & eBay Trivia"

Every issue I think back and say eBay is slowing down, but that is not true. In fact this quarter I had the most listings to date and a lot of great openers are included. Please note I try to only enter prices for better openers and corkscrews.

The first prices that jump out are for Dr. Pepper openers, the A-17 and the two F-17s. This is the second A-17 I have seen sold on eBay with the first bringing $450.00. The two F-17s sold about a month apart. The first one was the first occurrence on eBay for that style in Dr. Pepper. I guess one coming so close on the heels of the first one scared people off. I think a fair price for another one would be in the $75-$125 range.

Some Coca-Cola types appeared but not as many as in previous quarters. As usual the Starr X openers especially the Long Neck styles drew a lot of interest. The O-505 Lime Cola and O-505 Big Boy had been "professionally" repainted and still drew very high bids. I could not make any sense out of the high bids on the O-5s Frigidaires except some bidders had more money than had sense.

A wide variety of beer openers were offered with the nice beer knives leading the way especially the P-40-1 A. B. C. Despite the seller claiming "everyone knows what A. B. C. stands for – Anheuser Busch Company" when really it is the American Brewing Co. of St. Louis, it was a great knife and a good investment for the buyer. I just haven't graduated to the $500 level and above for knives (that's okay – Pat). With the right brewery name common beer styles did well and eBay definitely brings in the local collectors. But even worse is when someone's family name is on the opener. As I watched the E-4-342 Eichler sell in amazement for $132.50, a quick check of the results saw two bidders run the price up from $5 with the high bidder having a last name of Eichler. This is the same opener that upon buying a box of 130 E-4 Eichlers in 1995, I ended up with 15 #342 and 115 #332. You never know and of course I sold most of the 15 for $5-10 each.

My winning percentage this past quarter on eBay slipped dramatically from around 75 percent to about 50 percent. The competition just keeps getting tougher and tougher. The few bargains to be found are usually where the seller doesn't list the item correctly. One example is putting a nice M-3 Henius 1933 World's Fair slide-out opener in with a corkscrew knife and despite listing in two categories (Knives and Advertising) missed out on getting a good price.

Here are some of the more comical descriptions for "openers" this past quarter. An A-13 Car Figural was listed also as a "timing spanner". The listing was out of Australia and the seller thought it could be a bottle opener and someone suggested to them that it was a tool for adjusting the timing on a car. The seller agreed since it was consistent with the ad on the opener for car accessories. At least he deciphered the patent date of Nov 7, 1911 correctly.

Another seller claimed his common 1892 "Never Slip" can opener was patented "May 1792". Despite only asking $8.50 he never got a bid. In fairness the condition of the blade where the patent date was stamped was in rough shape and did resemble a "7" instead of an "8". Obviously he did not know much beverage or food history as 1792 predates the invention on cans for storing food (but not by much).

Study the following auction results and please keep in mind that few bargains are there and a lot of overpriced openers were sold. We have all done it, you lose a few times and then the heck with it, I am going to bid through the roof. The main trouble on eBay with that logic is even if you win, you probably just beat out someone with little or no opener knowledge.

Corkscrew prices on eBay seem to be fluctuating greatly. A 1884 Woodman patent brought only $1009 when it has brought as much as $3500. The Hootch-Owl brought $1625 and has brought close to double that price in the past. Still quality pieces if they have not been offered before or considered very rare still command top dollar.

Joe Young forwarded the following article to me from the local Elgin, IL newspaper. It is very interesting to learn the development of an opener even when it is a modern piece. The man is holding a R-21 "Bar Glove", developed by two young ladies who worked as barmaids on the Queen Victoria River Boat. The following write-up appeared in the Elgin Daily Herald 4-10-98. I might also add that this style is produced by Cantina Products of Tampa Florida and the owner, Craig Lombardo, is a JFO member.

Michael Berg demonstrates the I-Opener bottle opener that prevents cuts.

I-Opening Products Inc.

Owners: Laurie Berg, Norma Barfield and Michael Berg

Manager: Michael Berg
Location: 335 Oak St., Elgin 60123; (847) 742-6068

Established: 1996

Profile: Design and marketing of the I-Opener bottle opener, invented by Laurie Berg and Norma Barfield

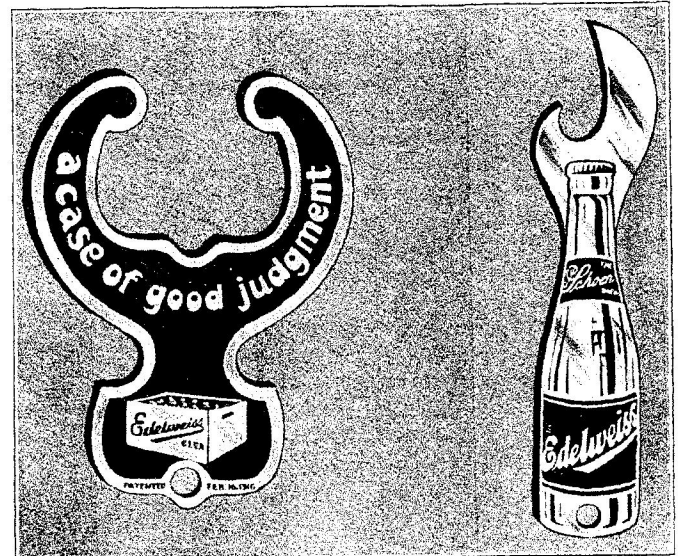

Influence to Open Business: The need for an easy-to-use, simple-to-make bottle opener

Goals: New products and a larger distribution network

Quote: "The Bartender's I-Opener is the first, easiest-to-use twist top bottle opener," Michael said.

EDELWEISS NEWS

THE NEW BOTTLE OPENERS

We have just received the new style bottle openers, which are exceptionally attractive from an advertising point of view and serviceable for practical purposes.

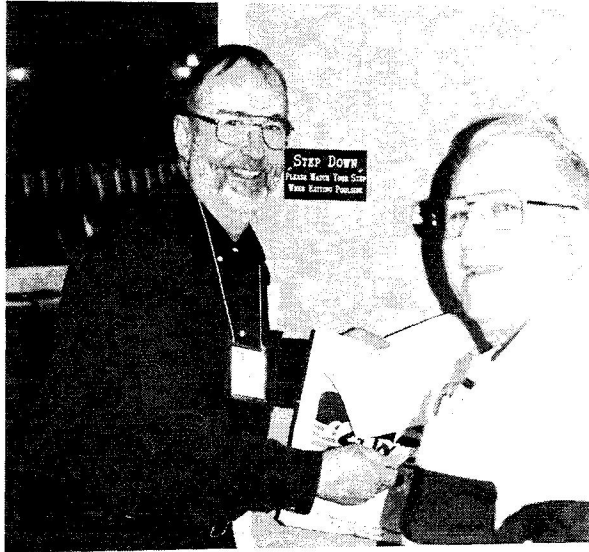

We now have quantities of these in the store-room ready for distribution.

"Should any certain Branch be disappointed in not receiving Edelweiss glasses when ordered, they will know that we have none on hand. In the first place, Edelweiss glasses were intended for the acquisition of new substantial bottled beer trade on Edelweiss, and not to be used in the saloon or over the bar. Edelweiss glasses are quite an expense and the branches should exercise great care in their distribution."

John Bitterman sent a copy of Edelweiss beer booklet ad for a C-1 and A-25 style openers. The booklet is dated 1916, same patent date for C-1 and also helps to date the A-25/A-38 style openers. Thank you to everyone who contributed articles for this issue.
