2002 Fredericksburg Convention

April 24-28 is fast approaching. Please make plans to attend the 24th annual JFO Convention. Registration form is the last two pages of this issue. Larry Moter promises this will be a memorable convention. Larry is promoting the show with many of the local breweriana collectors. If you have any beer advertising items and want to sell them, bring them to the JFO convention. If you decide to fly we can make arrangements to have your openers and or beer items shipped to either Larry or myself.

Also remember to bring some kind of display whether it is a few items or very large. This is a good place to share your collection with fellow members.

A-13-20 Hoster Norfolk Virginia

A rare car figural from the state of Virginia advertising a beer from Columbus, Ohio. The opener came from Larry Moter on a Christmas exchange about 5 years ago.

Member's Update

Art Santen had been feeling real tired for a few weeks but decided to go on a trip to Europe the end of September. On the second day he passed out at the Sistine Chapel. Over objections from Italian doctors he returned to the United States the next day and after examination by his doctors discovered he had leukemia. Art underwent 10 days of chemo treatments and then 20 days to recover at the hospital. His first treatment was very successful and all of the leukemia cells were killed. The first of December he underwent 10 more days of chemo and is currently at the end of his 20 recovering stay at the hospital. The doctors are hoping that this second treatment will finish any possibility of the leukemia coming back.

Don Whelan underwent a successful knee replacement operation the end of October. At the end of November he was having kidney problems and it was discovered cancer is in his kidneys. Don undergoes 4 days of chemo followed by 7 days of home recovery. He has had one treatment and will have more in the future. Don is doing well at the moment and even told the doctors that he must have April and October time slots open so he can attend his favorite shows (JFO and the Midwest Breweriana Show).

JFO would like to officially welcome member number 1000, Robert Behrends. Harriet Waldo asked me to list the members who have the first 10 numbers and here they are. Don Bull (1), Bonnie Bull (2,inactive), Leon Beebe (3,deceased), Joe Cardone (4), Alex Darocy (5), F D Donovan (6,inactive), Duane Dummer (7), Jack Ford (8), Andy Growe (9,inactive), Del Haarberg (10,inactive). The first set of numbers were issued to 19 members. Still active from 11-19 are Ed Kaye (11), Herbert Haydock (13), George Lohmiller (15), and Don Sherman (18). Congratulations to these original members still active with JFO in its 24th year.

Ollie Hibbeler recent bone cancer tests have received good results and he is doing very well. Make sure and read Ollie's write-up about the Mid-West Breweriana Show below.

Art and Eileen Johnson have slowly been recovering from many physical ailments during 2001. Just before Christmas they made the move to Naples, FL for the winter. Pat and myself had a nice visit with the Johnsons in Statesville, NC. May 2002 bring health and happiness to these JFO members and spouses.

Just a special note for everyone to check the sell ads. Tom Johnson is interested in selling his large collection of openers with all kinds and types included.

Just a quick note to thank everyone who bought openers off the fixed priced list in the October issue. I still have about 700 openers. Anyone ordering at least $100 worth can take a 20% discount.

19th Midwest Breweriana Convention Oct. 11-13, 2001 Omaha, Neb. by Ollie Hibbeler

Shirley and I left home Thursday morning at 4:00 A.M. crossed into Kansas at St. Joe, Mo. Stopped at only three malls along the way. We found nothing. We arrived at Don and Cora Whelan's new town house in Lincoln, Neb. They have been there only about four months, however Don had his openers out and already nicely displayed in his own collection room. We enjoyed the rest of the day and evening having a "few" and talking J.F.O. "stuff".

We left after breakfast Friday morning for a 60 mile trip to Omaha. We suffered a cracked windshield on our van on that trip. We registered in about noon. Food and drink was almost continuous in the hospitality room for the whole week-end. The deer sausage went great with the Boulevard Beer!

J.F.O. members at the show, besides Don and I, were John Mlady, Tim Payne, who very ably conducted the breweriana auction after the Friday night dinner, and a new Omaha attendee, Bob Campbell and his wife Elayne from Arizona. Bob is the new president of the B.C.C.A. He will also be at the Guzzle N' Twirl Show in St. Paul, Mn. I understand that is really a BIG BIG show. 350 tables of breweriana "stuff". Don will also attend. Then on Oct. 29th he is FINALLY going to the hospital for his new knee. He was in some pain in Omaha. Good luck to a fine friend and collector.

By the way, have you ever noticed, there are a lot of J.F.O. members who have held or now hold offices and/or positions in the other general breweriana organizations? Speaks well for members of J.F.O., doesn't it?

At the Saturday public show, I sold general breweriana advertising fairly well. I did not bring any openers as I knew Don would have a whole table full. He did not sell many, but he did sell a few high dollar openers, Nebraska mostly. Don and I each bought 12 raffle tickets. Don won four times. I didn't win at all. I must have my wife's luck!

I acquired 16 new openers for my collection.

What does Ollie say about the JFO Convention:

Be There!

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

1988 is the year under review and what a year. This was the 10th Year of JFO and the year of my first JFO Convention!!! We had only been married 6 months and I was to quickly learn what John's true love is.

The plan was to leave Chapel Hill sometime late afternoon and drive as far as we could towards St. Louis, then up early enough to be the first to arrive the next day.

Around 10:30 we decided to call it quits in Knoxville, Tennessee. We registered for a room, unseen only to find out that it was right below the busy interstate running through the town. Too noisy for us. Now, you know John is pretty low key, so going back down to the lobby to correct the problem was not an easy task, especially so far past his 9 o'clock bedtime. But, he did just that and since no other rooms were available, we checked out. Back on the road again. We didn't go far before a horrible vision flashed through my mind. Being the helpful person I am, I had carried my hanging clothes to the unwanted room and hung them up. The vision stopped there, right where the clothes remained. It's a good thing we were newly weds as John returned to the lobby once again on my behalf.

Next memory was sitting in the hospitality room with Vic and Mary Anne Keown, chatting about the convention, their kids and of course, openers. I was beginning to think this would be a fun time. Our host and hostess put me at ease and will always be dear to me.

People started pouring in and John disappeared, went off to sell a corkscrew to someone who returned to the hospitality room with a big grin on his face. Definite sign that he got a real deal. After that John really started to study corkscrews to become more knowledgeable. Our dog, Corkie helps him.

While John was gone, Bob Chapman showed up. I was admiring some fans in some of the hotel display cases as my mother-in-law has a beautiful framed fan. Bob offered to break into the showcase and get me one. Now JFO members try to help each other with their collections, but. I doubt Bob remembers that!! It made a bigger impression on me I'm sure.

One final memory of my first convention. I know Joe Young wishes I'd forget this one, but it is very vivid in my mind. It was after ten in the evening. I was ready for bed (unusually early for me), when someone knocked. I ran for the bathroom. I had studied all the fixtures, the brand of toilet paper, etc., and the coast was still not clear. Panic began to set in.....just how long might I be held captive in a bathroom???

Poor Joe really wanted to discuss a trade he and John had talked about earlier that day, but was really in a more embarrassing situation than I....afterall, this was the room of "the newly weds". We will always give Joe grief about that visit, and he will always wonder if his visit was unwelcomed no matter what we tell him. But no matter what, we are friends to this day, so either forgiveness was given or never needed!!! At least the bathroom was nice!!

Oh my!! I better start my real article!!! John is in the other room, trying to learn some new software to give the newsletter a new look. I better have my article ready when he calls for it!! The last time I passed by, he was quite frustrated with the software.

Ed Kaye was pleased that we were in our 10th year of publication. He recognized one of the big contribut ing factors in the success of JFO with this statement, "Our group has a rapport, each willing to help another in our specialized hobby".

Joe Young had submitted a great idea for the January 1988 Opener Trivia. He sent Bill McKenzie photostats of three openers with Holiday Greetings on them. Bill dug out some more and borrowed some from Gary Deachman's collection, then added some six-pointed stars for a finishing touch. The result was two pages of sketches of Holiday Openers and a discussion on the six-pointed stars. Very nice.

I had to laugh at this note in the trivia, "Usually Ollie (Hibbeler) sez stuff, but this time he wants some answers to thez questions". Hope he got them!!

In the Wanted section, John Stanley listed what he was looking for with his Chapel Hill address listed. By that time that address was wrong. When we were married in October 1987, we decided to live in my place, so we moved John there. About a month later, my place sold, so we both moved to his place before January 1988 along with my two Yorkies, Brandi and Cognac. Marrying an opener collector was fate with those names.

Oh my....getting off track again.

Bill's January trivia about the Mars opener is hilarious. He always wondered what the Martians used to open their beer. He claimed that the opener was found when a Martian spaceship crashed to earth.....probably when the Martians were "boogeying on down" and were totally blitzed at the time of impact. Bill reminded us that this kind of information cannot be found in any other opener column. You must go back and read this article in its entirety. It will brighten any cold, dismal January day.

After the Martians article you can read about the Won-Up opener. Was it beer or soda?? Wrong, wrong again. It was a grapefruit drink.

Bill exhibited his wealth of patience in his sketch of a can opener that operates on the principle of a cam in the January issue.

In the January trivia, Frank Kraft of Mankato, Minnesota wanted some help on an unusual opener from Mankato. It had some function other than being an opener and he wondered if someone could shed some light on it. By the April issue, Ron Klimas, a mason from Federal Way, Washington came to the rescue. Being a mason, he should know. The piece is called a line pin as it helps masons when they are building a wall to keep the middle section level with the two end sections that are built first.

Ed Kaye often encouraged members to write Bill McKenzie because of all the time he dedicated to the JFO trivia. Immediately following one such suggestion were these WORDS OF WISDOM: "Being happy is being involved".

Bill certainly was a happy person. John fits into the category too, but I thought it was because of me!!! I'll be happy when I have my article completed!!

Michael Schille was asked why a Floridian collects Great Falls, Montana Breweriana and responded in the April issue. His Dad worked at several breweries and even attended brewing school in Chicago. His Dad was Assistant Brewmaster/President of Great Falls, so that is the one that caught his interest.

Robert Cross promoted JFO by giving a presentation to the Phoenix Antiques, Bottles and Collectibles

Club while living in Sun City, Arizona.

The July issue is always special as it's the Convention Issue. Now, I already told you quite a bit about the convention, but here's more. The local paper ran an article on the convention host, Vic Keown. He didn't start collecting openers until he was 41. It took that long to run out of space for his can collection, so he made the switch to the smaller collectibles and entered the world of "openologists" and learned a lot from "Just for Openers", the professional newsletter of "openology".

For the article Vic told some history. Before Coca-Cola Co. used the fresh-faced kids of today's ads, it spread its "Drink Coca-Cola" message on the in-the-buff backside of an "Early Morn" bottle opener.

I knew about the cans that had an opener in the base, so you had to have two cans to open the one you wanted to drink. I didn't know that the bottle -innovator worked at Burger Beer in Cincinnati. Of course, his idea went down the drain, but who knows maybe he started Burger King!

Ed Kaye wasn't at the 10th Convention due to a heart attack and mild stroke. He has missed a lot of them since that year, but we know he is always there in spirit and that JFO members always think of him when they're at JFO, often telling stories about baseball player openers.

The July issue trivia went into great detail about the E-14 openers. That was great because I always forget if the flat head or round head is more valuable. Gee, there's a dipped head too. And those little points are called "frets". Ok, Pat...don't fret...see if you can remember that the earlier openers generally had a round head and a small fret at the top of the head. I sure am glad I don't have to ask John that again!! Oh, these little guys have manufacturer's marks too. I like the mark shown as "Newell" for it's Canadian.

In the April issue there was a jack shaped opener that was a souvenir of a company that produced industrial jacks, Duff-Norton Lifting Jacks. In the July issue we found out that company also gave out a jack shaped souvenir that served as a cigar cutter. That was neat!

Remember earlier in this article, the Mars opener? Now, there really was one by that name, even though the story surrounding it was questionable. Bill wasn't sure what one end of the opener might be used for. In this issue, Ron MacLean answered, "The yoke shaped end of the MARS opener is a champagne cork lever or pry to assist in removing a pressurized bottle cork".

Ron also answered another trivia question raised in April about the abbreviation D.R.G.M. noted on cork-screw/cigar cutter. The abbreviation stands for Deutsches Reich Gebrauchsmunster which translated means German Empire registered design or utility model. He added that the corkscrew has a German patent of 1890 and is very rare.

At the Convention, our host Vic Keown only needed one M-3 to complete his Trommers Collection, the M-3/27. Two people had one, Don Bull and someone in New York. After the convention, Don Bull sent it to him saying that he thought Vic would appreciate it more than he did. Like Ed Kaye said, "Our group has a rapport, each willing to help another in our specialized hobby".

The October trivia featured sketches of favorite openers acquired at the April Convention. Sorry, Joe Young, but I must mention you again for you picked an unusual can opener, one of the largest you had seen. You added that, "I'm sure you have to register these with the police". I thought you napped a lot at conventions, but you really are awake and having fun!

Fil Graff sent in a unique opener. Along with that, Bill wrote, "I'm not sure why Fil claims to be a "monk" (?). Whenever I've been around him he's never acted like one. Maybe finding an opener like this is a religious experience to him. I know he acts like he's in another world when he comes across them. Sort of like finding a lost sheep I guess. Can anyone tell our "monk" anything about this interesting piece he found? He claims to have asked the Lord, but as of this time has not received an answer".

Bill McKenzie, we miss you....your Opener Trivia was great.

Ollie Hibbeler wrote a letter saying, "Going to the convention to get some openers is fairly low on my priority list. The comradeship and the social are my principal reason for attending. I discovered this at the first one and that still stands today". I think what Ollie said in 1988 is still true today. Plan to come to Virginia in 2002.

Mark Barren asked for help identifying two openers in the July issue. No less than three members sent in information to help him out. Now we just need to send sunshine to Mark as he is responsible for snow-plowing over seven feet of snow in Buffalo, NY. We're thinking of you, Mark!!

The October issue included an article about how an opener was used to get a grave flower holder off someone's shoe. Wish I had read that a couple of weeks ago when I was struggling to get a grave flower holder up out of the ground. I bet an opener would have been a big help, plus I could have pierced the red fire ants that objected to my visit.

Did you know that the clothed "Early Morn" opener was called "Suffraget", then later called "Calendar Girl" in Vaughan catalogs? The October issue showed the letter size poster you could order from Ed Kaye. We have one of these "WARNING! OPENER/CORKSCREW POX". It says that the patient is sometimes inattentive to rest of family.....Just sometimes???? And John wonders why Corkie absolutely adores me. She's curled up beside me as I write.

But Corkie and I will be in Virginia with John in 2002. Hope You Are Too!!

New Discoveries to the 2001 Handbook (Part II)

Five more "New Discoveries" are shown on the next page. Jack Ford has been on me for several years to split out the non-gas key A-15s. Since the other figurals similar to this style all have two categories, it was time to create the A-70 type for Eagle Head openers with no gas key.

The G-67 was a new Coors type I bought on eBay. It came from Canada and I was curious if they have been found in the U.S. Art Santen hit gold at the ABA Convention in June when he bought this new "M" type. It is just like the handle of a P-9 corkscrew, but no shaft hole has been drilled in the handle. He got an added bonus with the ad being from a pre-pro (actually pre-1900 probably) Nebraska brewery.

In mid-November Miller Brewing Co. held an auction through a Wisconsin auction company for about 600 items from the Herb and Helen Haydock collection. I was fortunate to get this new type "mint in the box". It is the little sister of the standard Vaughan O-4 wall opener. I have a Lime Cola in this model and it is the only Vaughan #2s I have seen. The price I paid for this opener was a $100 (add a 10 percent buyer's premium). There were only a few other openers in the auction, notably were a K-9 Blatz selling for $200 and a K-11-2 Blatz bringing $250 (the buyer's premium had to be added to these prices).

The day after Thanksgiving, I was up early as usual. I got real lucky when the seller had a "Buy It Now" price of $20 for the O-23 Walter Bros on eBay. I have a 7-Up in this type and Thom Thompson has a Coca-Cola in this type and these are the only three I have ever seen.

While on a visit to Don Bull's house in 1995, I saw the P-162 in his collection and said this is a new style. Don then moved to Virginia and somewhere along the way the corkscrew was misplaced and I would remind him he had the little jewel to list sometime. Finally this summer he found it again. He thought all along I had dreamed the piece up, now we have the proof.

“Opener and eBay Trivia”

From the last issue, there was no response to Ollie Hibbeler's inquiry about his A-13 car with the ad for "You Auto Drink "Gotter Trunk" At Otto Brick's". For now I will assume it is a non-beer drink of some kind. Shirley will just have to cool it on the slots until Ollie finds out the true worth of this little gem.

Jack Ford wanted to know how I would classify a B-11 Potlatch openers with the Potlatch symbol removed. Unfortunately since the enamel is on gold, some of the B-11s have their symbols removed. At this time I do not have a separate listing in the handbook for a "cannibalized" B-11. I have one in my collection and just make a note in my inventory that the enamel piece is missing. I still consider it a B-11. Now it is a poor man's B-11.

Each quarter that goes by I keep thinking there is not much on eBay. Then it sinks in, there are a lot of great openers, I am just not getting nearly as many as I use to. At first I was losing out on low-end openers and now it is high and low end openers. A lot of opener collectors and many JFO members are now competing. As Pat keeps reminding me, I do not need any more openers and I am very thankful to have the openers that I have.

One opener that you see on the next couple of pages of eBay results from this past quarter is an A-40-2 Excelsior. I wanted it pretty badly so I would have both of the known A-40s. Unfortunately I beat out a fellow JFO member, Jimmy Beckett for this one. He had sent me a short note back in the spring when he joined JFO and talking about his new found love for openers. The one style he really wanted to get was an A-40 "September Morn". I am sorry you lost out on this one, but this is the third one on eBay and hopefully one will come your way one day.

The "big enchilada" for opener collectors this quarter was Chris Quimby deciding to part with his H-12 Salem opener. Chris had just discovered this great opener about two years ago. I thought my bid of $333.99 would bring the prize but I ended up in third place with Craig Green bringing home the H-12 for a bid of $350.00. Congratulations Craig and by the way he also beat me out on a very tough B-6 Pacific Brewing and Malting Co opener the previous month (as well as a couple of other openers).

Other notable auction results were, an A-17 Dr Pepper bringing $468.01 (third one on eBay with all bringing near this price), B-1-6 Wagner for $134.50 with very little paint remaining, B-18-17 Cooks for $127.50 (had to be a couple of local collectors as I did not recognize any of the bidders), M-2-5 Bartholomay for $271.99 (I tried to get this one for Gary Deachman) which was the nicest M-2-5 I have seen offered for sale, M-3-37 Sheridan (Green) bringing $270 (sliders prices keep going up), finally those Starr X wall mounts never cease to amaze me as a repainted O-502 (side mount) Coca-Cola bringing $723.13 and a somewhat rough O-502 Delaware Punch realizing $609.00. Those prices on the O-502s would make Dale Deckert roll over in his grave (he was not cheap but those prices would have blown his mind too).

Corkscrews seemed to be somewhat slow this quarter in that not a lot of good ones were on the market. One that just closed was a 1878 Sperry which closed below reserve at $1,225.00. This one has brought over $3000 in past auctions. Some others were a mechanical Graef & Schmidt for $2605.00, one "Hootch-Owl" for $1,875.00, a second "Hootch-Owl" for $1,506.00, an 1884 Curly with metal handle for $1,302.00, a 1884 Joshua Barnes for $1,030.00, an Eclipse bar mount for $725.00, a Syroco Clown for $687.55, a Mumford for $430.00, and a 1926 pocket 'Camel' for $180.27. Maybe the corkscrew market reflected the economy this quarter and the fact no collections were being sold via eBay.

The one cast iron opener of note was a "Sammy Samoa" in very good condition for $385.00. In fact I saw very little activity this quarter in better cast iron pieces. As usual a lot of the common styles were offered.

Cigar Box Openers saw a couple unusual styles offered and one is pictured on the last page of opener trivia and brought $68.00. The one not shown was a RND-9 style and brought $86.00. One very rare soda knife was offered advertising "White Rock" soda. It was a Remington knife with a sliding corkscrew (similar to a P-40). The final price realized for the knife in excellent condition was $684.84.

“Opener and eBay Trivia”

A new style CBO “Double Hammer”.

A recently made fake M-19 Coca-Cola. An original is very rare and worth $200-300. These fakes (they have been offered at least 5 different times from the same seller using the same picture) have a starting price of $29.00 and have sold for as much as $115.00. As usual it is buyer beware. The casting appears much cruder in the logo area than the original. $29.00 is not a bad price if you just want to have one as a conversation piece.

The opener at the right I got recently on eBay. The tip of the wing curving down is the opener and it also has a gas key and split key ring. I had never seen this style before. It does have an ad on the back for “Compliments of Whitfield Hardware Co.” Reward slogan on front.

All sides including flaps are shown for the new O-22 style. Vaughan’s #2 was one inch narrower than their standard Vaughan #1. Certainly an early Vaughan effort since the one box side has “Crown Throat & Opener Company”, their original trade name used through the late teens.

Hopefully everyone likes the new newsletter format. It is very helpful with inserting pictures and will make for much better quality when the newsletter is produced. For seven years I had used Microsoft Word to do the newsletter and have now switched to Microsoft Publisher. Any suggestion or comments are appreciated.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year (2002)

This Christmas, my dear assistant and loving wife was concerned about mailing out cards with all the news about anthrax. As the threats settled down and cards from family and friends started pouring in, including many from JFO, she regretted her decision, but it was too late. She drove 1531 miles between December 13th and 17th, then another 250 on the 20th. So, she sends this message to all the members of JFO and their families:

You know, even without a card, that you are in our thoughts, that we wish you a Merry Christmas and that the New Year will be Healthy and Happy. In fact, we wish you lots of Merry Christmas Days in 2002, for that is what it is like each time you find that special opener/corkscrew!!!

Our greatest gift is the close friendships we treasure with our JFO members and their families. We stay in touch throughout the year. We always feel that you are very near. We hope that you know we are always here. Three cheers, three cheers!!!

2002 JFO Convention (What is Available and What to Bring)

Clayton Denney will have a room full of Starr X wall mount openers, casting plates, brass name tags, plus a large display board of Starr X openers for sale at the convention. If you collect wall mount openers whether it be beer, soda or both this will be an excellent chance to buy tough and common openers made by Brown Manufacturing and if you buy in quantity, nice discounts will be given.

Also bring any and all Breweriana to Fredericksburg. As stated on page one, Larry Moter is heavily promoting the convention to local beer collectors. Anything from Virginia should be brought along if it available.

As usual we will have a regular display contest with first, second and third. The display can be large or small and any kind of openers or corkscrews can be displayed. The other contest is for the "Bill McKenzie Best In Show Award". Only one item, it can be a New Discovery, your favorite opener, and can be any opener or corkscrew whether it is a beer advertising item or non-beer item. Just take the time to share your collection with fellow JFO members.

Last but not least, if you don't know, Larry Moter is a major collector of all wire advertising openers ("E"s). Bring any and bring all wires. Larry has a pretty short want list compared to all of the known wires listed but you never know when you might make him a really happy convention host. He is also famous for finding great traders.

At this rate his bag will be full by Christmas next year.

Bud.Bob Takes Over eBay

New member Bob Suddeth has jumped all over any A-B knives on eBay plus some other choice knives from the St. Louis area. Bob writes that he is a retiree of Anheuser-Busch after 36 years of service based in the St. Louis corporate headquarters. He purchased a mint A.B.C. knife on eBay and reports that the A.B.C. Brewery was located in part at what is now the parking lot for the main Anheuser-Busch corporate offices building on 7th St. Many years before as an engineer, he was involved in reworking the property; grading, adding storm sewers, etc. During the process we uncovered some of the old man-made storage caves/tunnels for the A.B.C. Brewery. A few artifacts were found, but not much. Thanks Bob, welcome to JFO.
