John Stanley Retirement
After 28 and 1/2 years at the University of North Carolina I retired September 1st with my last work day August 24th. Since my first day I have been a computer programmer for the payroll system. I have been very fortunate to have worked with many great people and also met Pat through my job. It is time to concentrate on openers full time. Hopefully this will be the last really late newsletter I put out.

X-23-1 JFO Las Vegas
JFO Convention Opener for 2012 comes in two colors, brass and silver. The opener is three inches in diameter and modeled to be a casino chip. Cost is $13 (includes shipping). Send check and make payable to John Stanley, PO Box 51008, Durham NC 27717. If you buy both colors the cost is $24.

The Verne Vollrath Collection

After returning from Las Vegas I called Verne Vollrath to see if he was ready to send his collection for me to sell. He was ready and after 10 boxes and over four weeks most of his collection is now in Durham. This issue features 250 openers from his collection. Verne's collection contains a lot of quality pieces and unlike your editor and many collectors he never traded or sold an opener unless it was a duplicate. The collection will be sold through JFO and on eBay.

2012 JFO Convention #34 April 18-22 The Palms Las Vegas NV

The Las Vegas Convention write-up and photos are in this issue. Again many many thanks to John Cartwright for planning and hosting a great convention. Vegas had a lot of action going down. No big secrets to pass along and maybe because we are an older group not a lot of wild times. A special thanks to contributing photographers, Jackie Young, Darlene Atwood, Dave Pinney (actually Dru Pearson, Dave's girlfriend), Stephanie Gudeman (Jackie's daughter), Todd Barnes and our usual photographer, Alex Redl. A special thanks to the contributing Las Vegas Microbreweries, Big Dog Brewing and Sin City Brewing, for contributing goodies and a tour. The Palms staff was very nice but did not always know we were there when people asked. Certainly their week was geared towards college age kids. Another special thanks to our Hotel sales person, Kelly Barroga, who was very helpful and made several concessions so we could make this convention work. Great food, great fun, great openers and corkscrews and just plain great people. Be in Nashville in April 2013!

2013 JFO Convention #35 April 10-14 Holiday Inn Opryland Nashville TN

The hotel has been selected and unlike when we were in Nashville in 2006, I have had a lot of local small entertainers contact me about doing a performance for our group and even have had a motivational speaker inquire. Unfortunately we are a small group and I told a them unless you have a nice opener and/or corkscrew collection we could not use their services. This will be the 35th JFO Convention and Nashville is within a day's drive for a lot of JFO. Be there for a 35th Convention celebration.

Member's Update

We had a scare from one of our convention regulars from the great state of Wisconsin, Mike Krejci. In late May Mike had a mild heart attack and required two stents. He had a fairly fast recovery and following doctor's orders he is eating right, exercising and feeling very well. Mike take care of yourself. We need to see you in Nashville!

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

John is working less and I'm working more. We both have about the same number of years of service and although I'm older, he's retiring first. I don't think that is the way it's supposed to work.

Wonder what he will do with his time?

I have some ideas, but I don't think they are the same ones he has in mind.

I'm working long hours due to two retirements in my area that make me consider the option too. But John would probably try to recruit me to put items out on eBay, key in long brewery names into a worksheet, package up openers to mail, then take them to the post office. He would want the PO runs made near lunch so I could pick up some lunch for him on the way back.

Those who have been at JFO conventions understand as they know that John keeps me very busy at our favorite convention. It's a good thing I think so much of our members, including John!

Being back in Las Vegas or on our annual San Francisco trip sounds like more fun than work, especially if our JFO friends are with us too.

JFO 2012 seems so long ago, but I still remember how much I enjoyed meeting Jackie's daughter Stephanie. Oh, and who could forget Theresa and Mike's daughter Michelle, eh? John and Marcia Eblen have visited us since and we will visit them, Jack Ford and John Cartwright when we go to San Francisco as well as another member who has not been to recent conventions, Pete Nowicki and his new wife, Carol (his college sweetheart that he reunited with after many years – a true romance never forgotten).

You all know that collectors have told their spouses to contact John if they are left behind with boxes and boxes of openers and he will help them dispose of the collection. Now John is also handling collections for members who have decided to pare down their collections. I think he has all/more than he can handle. His opener room would overheat a metal detector or drive any other wife crazy. Every once in awhile, I ask him which openers belong to whom in case something happens to him...like he overdoses on openers. He tells me I can figure it out by comparing every opener to the list on the computer by owner's name. Sounds like fun. Will get my bifocals updated if I get to do that.

I should take a picture of John in his polishing gear, but just try to imagine. This process takes place in our garage, on the side I park my vehicle...so it's often out in the drive way, even when temps exceeded the 100 degree mark so my beautiful chocolate brown hood would stay beautiful chocolate brown.

John wears a combination goggle and face shield with a medical mask that covers his nose under the shield. He has an old t-shirt on, not so old shorts and white socks and flip flops. Behind him he drapes a gold colored sheet to keep some of the mess he is creating under control.

Oh...let's not forget that he also puts band-aids on both thumbs, followed by a layer of duct tape, then gloves to reduce the damage of holding openers on a polishing wheel for 2.5 hours in a garage without air conditioning. Sometimes I get to vacuum him off with a shop vacuum. He is so covered with dirt and threads from the polishing cloth, that it's difficult to even allow him back into the house.

John cannot stand being dirty or hot, but he's been doing this a lot!!

Then it's clean up time. He vacuums the garage and sometimes remembers to vacuum the overhead light that has enough cotton dust balls on it to make a fireman run. He brings in the openers that now may need some extra attention with the Toss 'N Throw SOS pads I must keep available at all times. This is accomplished in the laundry room which is handy as he can then throw all the nasty clothes directly into the washer. If I'm lucky, he's considerate and asks if I have anything I need to wash. With those clothes? You must be kidding!!

After a polishing marathon, you better have your sunglasses handy as all the openers are so shiny, they blind you. John prepares packages for mailing and uses his machine to calculate prepaid postage. I don't understand the Post Office deficit. John generates revenue and does some of the work PO employees would otherwise complete. Of course, once he dumps the packages (or I do) into this huge, noisy bin, the postal workers earn their pay.

The post office also earns money when collectors mail boxes of memories to John or when big boxes of mailers John ordered arrive and I think he got me some big gift!!

Jazzy and Snazzy are use to the clanging of metal, the polishing wheel, and the big packaging tape dispenser noise as excessive tape is applied to each and every package. They have not adjusted to going potty on command because Daddy needs to get back to the latest opener project.

Me...well, the tape dispenser when I'm trying to sleep is quite annoying, but not as much as one work morning was recently. He decided to polish some openers before going to work since it would be cooler. His good morning greeting when he woke me up was, "I'm either going to pass out or throw up from being out there polishing". I was voting for the pass out option.

And to think that the first time I went to his condo when we were dating, I did not see one opener. I think I was set up!

At least they don't take up much room, until you have several other collections here too.

So what will John do when he retires?

removing the cover from paint or varnish cans, opening cigar boxes, opening a watch case, as a key holder, as a screw driver, a paper cutter and a bottle cap remover. It is made of tool steel. If desired, a firm's advertisement can be cut into the tool, thus making a good advertising novelty. A dozen "Triplets" are attractively mounted on an artistic easel card, printed in two colors. Some of the uses to which the tool can be put are printed on the display card. The device sells for a dime at a good profit to the dealer.

Random Thoughts by Mike Krejci on the Las Vegas Convention

Another JFO Convention is in the books and while Las Vegas is not one of my favorite places, it was great being with JFO members both old and new. Thanks to John C. for hosting a fine convention. One of the things I enjoyed most was the "surprise" visit to Big Dog Brewing on Friday afternoon. After a wrong turn or two we all arrived at Big Dog. I was the navigator for the Art S. car and was one navigator who directed him to make a wrong turn. Let me tell you it is A LOT easier getting turned around in a car than a 70 foot semi!

Equally enjoyable was the Saturday gathering at Hofbrauhaus for some good food and company. Art and I had stopped there on Wednesday checking for openers and thought it would be a nice place to eat, which it was. We had also stopped at Ellis Island Casino and Brewery, both Hard Rock locations and Sin City Brewing looking for openers. Art checked out some of the casino gift shops for openers as well.

Friday evening Pat Stambaugh and I took the free shuttle from The Palms to Caesar's Palace. We headed north looking for The Bellagio. When we got to the north end of The Strip we turned around and headed south to find out the place was just across the street from Caesar's! We watched the fountain show there and then headed to New York New York to ride the roller coaster. Pat didn't care for the loops where you are turned upside down, but I thought that was one of the best parts of the ride. When we got off the ride I remarked to Pat that I didn't think I'd have to go for a stress test as that should have proved I was in good shape. Well wouldn't you know it about a month later I had a heart attack! We visited the M&M Store as well. Pretty interesting, three floors of nothing but M&M stuff. We then headed to Flamingo Rd. and intended to ride the bus back to The Palms. Trouble was the first bus stop we came to was across the street from The Palms. I figure we covered almost four miles that evening. All and all it was a great time.

On the opener front I was able to sell a ton of openers. I didn't buy a lot, but did add about 12 B-73's to my collection. I did buy an A-16-5 Gold Top in the Friday auction. I sold two lots in the auction. Thank you to all who purchased openers from me and to those who voted to put me in first place on my display.

34th JFO Convention Las Vegas, Nevada April 18-22

Monday: Thank God for Southwest Airlines and allowing two checked bags per person for free! When one flies it is so hard to bring a lot of stuff and I needed to bring a bunch of micro and plastic openers and the two bag policy would make it happen. After dropping Jazzy and Snazzy at the vet for boarding, a friend took us to the airport and dropped Pat and me off. My first issue was leaving my cosmetic bag with my pills in his car. Thankfully he was still circling the airport as I had asked him to stick around until I was through security with "the good openers". I had one heavy knapsack and security ended up scanning the bag twice. They took my three opener bags out and scanned just those bags the second time and asked what they were and where I was going with them. Once I explained it was an opener convention they were happy.

The flight was a long five hours and we landed in Las Vegas at 5PM. John Cartwright picked us up at the airport and took us to the Palms, a big hotel and casino just west of the main strip. Our first two nights would be in one sleeping room and then come Wednesday we would move to the room on the other side of the hospitality room. We got settled in and had supper and then I tried my first run at Blackjack and won a little bit at the $10 table. After the long day we turned in about 10 after I played some more blackjack.

Tuesday: Since I was winning I went down at 5AM to play some more and had a so-so session, still ahead on blackjack. John brought the remainder of Don Sherman's collection to his room and I spent some time going through it. It was a lot of non-beer openers and items of all kinds. We both agreed that just about any offers would be accepted on this stuff (about eight attache cases and four other boxes full). We did some dealing as I bought a few from John and then he bought a few from me. We mostly dealt in micro openers as John is into finding those. With so many micro-breweries now producing a wide range of openers it can be a really fun area of collecting for opener collectors.

My luck at blackjack would continue Tuesday but then my last time playing that night I lost $150. So far I had been playing at the $10 table and ended the day up $175. That evening John took Pat Stambaugh, Pat Stanley and I along with an old friend of his, Phil Arnold, from his hometown of Port Townsend, Wa. to a great buffet at the Wicked Spoon Restaurant at The Cosmopolitan. I must have eaten too much and that effected my luck at the blackjack tables (it is always those hot dealers taking your money). On the return back to the Palms, we did go up and down the strip and tried to visit the "Pawn Stars" store but we arrived at 9:01 and they had just closed. From 9PM to 9AM they only deal through an outside window.

Wednesday: For some strange reason I kept waking up early so once again it was blackjack time. I started out fairly well and graduated to the $25 table and would end the day up $300. This gambling thing is easy. With most of the attendees arriving today that would take up most of my time. Despite several trips by John Cartwright to the airport there was one snag, I had lost Bill and Barb Arber's flight number so they had to take a cab. John got most everyone else.

The Canadians, Mike & Theresa St. Amand and John & Mary Lynn, were in early in the day and they brought one of the family members, Michelle St. Amand (Mike's daughter). As I told her right off, JFO is one big happy family and anytime some one wants to brings a friend or a family member please do so. Michelle liked to party and was the life of the JFO group for this show.

Whenever one is flying today, it is hard to bring very much, but I did have some good openers and a lot of micro and plastic openers. It did not take long for action to heat up as Jeb Burruss, Gary Deachman, Bill Arber, Pat Stambaugh and Scott Williams put a dent in what I had brought. I did so well on Wednesday that I had to make a bank run the next morning. A lot of good openers went out the door.

Only a few members did some gambling, most at the slots and I think Josef L'African and myself were the only ones playing much blackjack. The hospitality room was small but cozy. My first deal with Josef was on a P-2-4 Gerke for several miscellaneous pieces he had. In the end I had to kick $10 his way. Then Josef and I were working on a trade for my P-185-1 Pabst and he would every now and then offer a $100 casino poker chip in the deal. As I told him a couple of times before we completed the deal, you need to add more chips. In the end he did and with a couple of miscellaneous corkscrews the deal was completed.

Josef's fellow corkscrew collector arrived, Tommy Campbell, and Tommy took a little trip to the main strip that evening. He happened upon a man offering to let anyone kick him in "the nuts" for $20. Tommy gladly paid and got it on video. The man did not know that Tommy had been taking kick boxing lessons for six months and received one heck of a kick to the groin. I may be called "Tipped Worm Johnny" by Josef and Tommy but from now on Tommy will be known as "Tommy Nut Kicker" Campnell. That old saying about what happens in Vegas stays in Vegas, forget it. I am here to report all events associated with JFO.

The hospitality room was going full blast. Most of us ate at the hotel buffet restaurant. Upon check-in you could get a discount card good for all places on the property and as long as you paid cash the buffets were very cheap. Coming back from supper, Phil, John C. and myself tried some blackjack and the dealer wiped out our $100 each so fast we did not get our seats too warm. The late night bedtimes started but I was still ahead at blackjack so it was sort of sweet dreams.

Thursday: I rose and headed to the casino as Pat tried to sleep some more. My good luck continued at first and then boom, the dealer got hot and I was back to even for my stay. To heck with blackjack it was time to concentrate on openers. Between the three buffets at the hotel I was certainly eating too much so I would eat at the breakfast buffet, have a small lunch and then have the dinner buffet. You did not have to be worried about going hungry. Late in the morning one of two first time attendees that came with a car load of openers arrived, Ed Walker. Unfortunately it was not much in the way of beer advertising openers but it was a varied collection. Ed's convention had a dual purpose as he would be marrying his long time friend the next evening, Sue. A strange combination, openers and love, but it works. The wedding did occur and Ed even set up at the Saturday Show.

A few more members arrived during the day and early evening. After a really strong start in sales today was so-so. I figured my best strategy was to stay away from the blackjack tables as at least I was even and could not go in the hole. That evening Gary and I joined Josef and Tommy at the Italian Restaurant in the Fantasy Tower (it contains the Playboy Club). They cooked a special gluten free veal and risotto dish just for me and it was outstanding. Unfortunately Gary got a ravioli dish that had four little raviolis on it. It looked like a small appetizer but no worries as Tommy shared some of his large portioned chicken parmigiana. For once I was up late in the hospitality room, but Tommy went dancing with Michelle and her friend, Noella. Tommy lasted until 4AM while the girls stayed up until 6AM. Word is Tommy can dance and is the funniest man in the world. What a town, Las Vegas.

Friday: My one day with no blackjack or gambling of any kind. Once you are up a decent amount and then lose it back, it tends to leave a sour taste in your mouth. Today the JFO gang would be heading to Big Dog Brewing to tour, eat lunch and then some would go see the Pawn Stars store. Before folks left the second car load of openers owned by Clark Davis arrived. The first rumor was 200 pounds and then it was 300 pounds. Whatever it was it was a lot of openers. Clark had a hotel package deal so he was staying in the Fantasy Tower and it is definitely a nicer tower than the Palms Tower. The first group went over at 10:30AM and the bed was full of openers, the desk was full, openers on the floor and just openers everywhere. I did find a few items including a couple of CBOs, a couple of beer openers and some metal handle advertising screwdrivers. Clark was a novice at pricing so it was a little tough deciding on a value but he really wanted to lighten his load. A few of us helped.

The crowd took off for Big Dog and I stayed behind to await more arrivals. Pat had printed Map Quest driving directions for the five cars but the directions were not the easiest to follow and I think everyone took a different route to get there but they all made it. The tour, food and beer were all great so it was worth a little misdirection. Most people were back by 2PM and the hospitality room was in full swing as the auction would start at 4PM.

One of my chores was to set up chairs and we had decided to use our adjoining bed room as it was larger than the hospitality room. For the hotel today it was a huge pool party with loud music, lots of young people and lots of skimpily clad girls. In a lot of rooms the windows rattled all day from the noise. So we had this for a backdrop as the auction ran.

Once again Gary Deachman and Jeb Burruss acted as auctioneers and Pat Stanley was the recording secretary. I decided to enter three good openers and two did very well, an A-40-1 Inland selling for $190 to Bill Arber and an A-33-1 Ackermann selling for $110 to Robert Hedges. My third opener, an A-16-5 Gold Top sold to Mike Krejci for $50. A lot of positive comments about the auction and we always have entertainment provided by Deachman and Stanley. Thank you to everyone who participated in the auction by either buying or selling. This year we only had a few passed items.

Friday night most everyone wanted to eat at the buffet downstairs but Pat and I opted for a return trip to the Wicked Spoon. John Cartwright drove us over and we timed it well as we walked straight in and did not have to wait. Another awesome meal but the cost there is $37.50 versus $15 back at the Palms. We took a cab back and had the hospitality room opened by 8PM. Not many people hung around that night as the Saturday show was the next morning. Pat and I did go to bed at a decent time if you call 11:15 a decent time.

Saturday: One problem with the Palms breakfast buffet was it did not start until 8AM and that was the starting time for the show. Jeb had tried the Gold Dust buffet across the street the morning before, so I went over and it was pretty good but to me not as good as the Palms. Jeb joined me halfway through my meal but I left early to get over to the show. Using our large suitcase I made my way over. The show was on the second floor of the Fantasy Tower and the room was perfect for us. Twenty-five tables and plenty of space for everyone and displays. When I walked in at 7:40 most everyone's was there and checking things out.

This year we had seven regular displays and three "Bill McKenzie Best of Show" award displays. The regular displays included John Stanley's A-9 collection, John Cartwright's U. S. Beer P-Type Wooden Handles, Josef L'Africain's "Davis Corkscrew" collection, Mike Krejci's A-21 "Spinner Clock", Darvin Stilwell's L-1 Can Collection with variations, Dave Pinney's "History of Pinney Beverage Co.", and finally Art Santen's "Casino Openers". Mike Krejci easily won first place (for the third straight year) with John Cartwright winning second place and Dave Pinney third.

In the "Bill McKenzie Best of Show" award, John Stanley entered a M-3-UL Eichler's Beer, Mike Krejci a B-1-24 Rising Sun and Jeb Burruss a M-103-UL Pearl Beer. It was close between Jeb and Mike with Jeb winning the award. Congratulations to the winners and thank you to everyone who participated. Also thank you to the attendees for looking and voting. Mike has proven that if you put some effort and thought into it, you can win an award and usually first place.

As with most of our shows, things were dying out by 11AM but most hung around until 12-12:30. John Cartwright had twice been around the Las Vegas area and put out flyers for the show. In his second visit at several locations most of his original flyers were taken. In the end we had about 10 walk-ins. One of the last was John Laduck and he asked John Cartwright if he would do a package deal on any of his openers. John had 12-15 attache cases of Don Sherman's common openers and Laduck ended with about half of them for $200. Laduck then came over to my table and bought four large bags of plastic openers for $50. After hauling them for two years it was time for a new home. Laduck claimed they would end up in a museum. We will see. I do not know many museums that like plastic openers (he tried a pile of plastic on eBay for $50 but received no bids).

I sold well at the show all things considered. The room was nice but finding it was not easy as hotel workers who knew about our convention were few and far between. We re-opened the hospitality room and most folks spent the afternoon hanging out there. At about 3:30 I tried my luck at blackjack one more time. Playing the $25 table, I started with $200 and ended up with $800 as I finally found a really cold dealer. It took less than 30 minutes and I had Deachman watching. A darn nice good luck charm. When the dealer hit a couple of blackjacks I knew it was time to leave. Gary headed over to the slots and I headed back to the hospitality room to brag. A little later I checked on Gary and on the quarter slot machine he had hit a Royal Flush to win $1,012.00. He was smiling ear to ear just like me. He had been in the hole pretty deep and this put him in the very positive territory.

At 5:30 we rounded up 30 folks who were staying Saturday night for a group supper at the Hofbrauhaus (German style food). The food and service was excellent as we sat at two large tables. The meal ended with us watching a large table of young couples volunteering the men to get paddled by a woman who worked at the restaurant (must be some old German ritual). She would take two soft warm-ups and then hit the guy hard on the butt. We watched five go through it and then headed back to the hotel.

For a final night, the crowd was a little quieter than usual. Tommy Campnell had flown out that evening and without his participation the jokes were not being told. I did try another stint at blackjack and donated $225 back to the house in about 10 minutes. Easy come and easy go. By 10PM most people had said their good-byes and headed back to their rooms. We rounded up the leftover items for

John to take home and closed the hospitality doors for the final time on the 2012 JFO Convention.

Sunday: We were flying out at 9:15AM and Pat wanted to get going early. Of course she needed a cup of coffee and a biscuit so I headed down through the Casino to the other end where McDonald's was located. I had one $25 chip in my pocket and figured I might as well donate it back to the Palms. Playing $25 at first and then $50 I turned it into $300 and took off for the coffee and biscuit. I officially would end up $610 ahead for the week. Not bad for a dumb gambler.

Pat was not feeling the best but we made it to the airport.

Mike Krejci was at the gate besides ours and non-stop talking as he left on his plane first. We had a chance to get bumped but Pat just wanted to get home. The second offer was really tempting as it was a $300 voucher with a free night's hotel in Vegas or they would get you as far as Nashville with a free night there. We were back home by 4:45PM, having left 99 degree heat for 53 degree chill. It was sure good to be home and pick up the dogs who were more excited than we were.

Thanks again everyone for making Las Vegas a great JFO Convention. Start planning for Nashville (April 10-14, 2013), BE THERE!!!

Brown Manufacturing Question By John Eblen

Hello John, I purchased an item recently that I'd like to share with you and everyone. Back in the JFO Newsletter of July 1998 (for all the old timers) the open trivia question was of the opener pictured on the right. This was a unidentified Brown opener with the markings "4 21 25" and "PATNO 1534211 BROWN MFG. CO". I don't know if anyone, at that time, was able to come up with an answer of approximating the years it was made or what it was associated with.

I recently purchased this cap catcher with the same Brown opener installed in it. The mounting of it and the attached cap catcher, doesn't appear at all to be modified, so I believe this is the real deal and something that was not married together at a later time. It also saw heavy use by the beverage residue left behind inside cap catcher from opening many a bottle and has never been cleaned in a very long time, if ever. The markings on the outside of the cap catcher, around the bottom of it, indicate the whole thing sat inside some type of holder, which would explain why there are no mounting holes drilled anywhere on it. It was made to be removed and emptied of caps. It's made of heavy gauge steel and the red paint looks to be the original color that it was painted. It measures 3-1/2" d x 3" w x 10" h.

Maybe with the help of our vending machine savvy readers someone can identify what machine this fits in. I'm curious to know myself in answering this old 1998 trivia question 14 years later.

Above three pictures of the Palms Casino Resort. The middle picture shows the Palms Tower where JFO was held. We attempted a night run to the "Pawn Stars" Store but we arrived at 9PM just as they were closing. It is located near the old strip and certainly a shady area of town at night. Below Right: Pat Stanley at "registration desk" doing her convention duties with a smile. A great JFO wife!

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

Another quarter with interesting results on eBay. One change is the summer season had started and some good openers were sold as the results below show, but most days seemed like surfing page after page of common, junk or new openers. With eBay’s pushing new guidelines through, many sellers are cutting back or dropping out. One can only hope that this trend will slow down. Of course being 2012 the number of “old” openers coming into the market place keeps decreasing. Good corkscrews have really gone down in numbers on eBay as the ICCA Auction has taken that stage over. More random thoughts to follow in future issues.

A-007-999, Excelsior Motorcycles Shelly Whitehead Allentown PA (Key Ring Hole is Gas Key), 8, $119.50

A handful of examples of this opener have sold but never this high. The ladies’ leg shape opener is unusual in that the key ring hole is also the gas key. Throw in the motorcycle ad and you have a large ending result.

A-009-034, White Eagle, 8, $89.88

A few of the A-9-34 White Eagle baseball players have sold over the years and they always bring a good price. This one being in excellent condition continued the trend. For beer advertising baseball player openers there are about five that appear quiet often and the rest only rarely and some very rarely are seen.

A-012-014, Rahr, 2, $76.00

This sale was one that surprised me. I know the A-12-14 Rahr sword is hard to find but this price was very high and condition was very bad. Someone just had to have this opener.

A-017-036, Schooner Brew, 6, $126.19

The Schooner Brew is a hard to find Chattanooga, Tn. lion head figural opener. Just another example of why many Tennessee openers sell for a high price. Schooner Brew was most likely a prohibition drink.

A-033-005, Hamms, 8, $152.51

A-033-005, Hamms, 6, $79.88

A one time very desirable Hamms opener and a harder style to find with beer advertising. The A-33 “big fish spinner” brings a lot of attention when a beer ad one is sold but the A-33-5 Hamms has seen several examples the last couple of years. Sometimes a good thing appears too much and thus the low price on the second example.

A-999-999, Harley Davidson Motorcycle Spinner, 6, $511.99

The Harley-Davidson motorcycle spinner figural is one of my all time favorites and by now many examples have been sold. The final price of this one was about where one would sell for in today’s market, $500.00. About half what I estimated one would bring in 2007. Again too many appearances of a good piece can drive the value down even with boat loads of Harley-Davidson collectors.

B-001-021, F & S, 8, $164.50

B-001-024, Rising Sun, 6, $173.39

B-002-035, Bangor, 6, $355.00

It was a great quarter for beer brass openers and I was the lucky seller of the B-2-35 Bangor at $355.00. When you read the October JFO issue you will see that some other folks followed suit and tried to sell their own Bangor opener. The B-1-21 F&S was probably the nicest example of that opener I have seen. The B-1-24 Rising Sun is always a popular opener because of the great logo on the opener.

B-013-008, Heileman w/ Fob (BIN), 6, $74.95

B-013-042, Heileman w/ Fob, 4, $124.50

B-013-999, The Biltmore Westchester NY, 6, $118.50

Over the years I have seen many B-13 Heileman beer nifty corkscrew openers with a Heileman fob attached. Why these openers this past quarter went very high is a mystery to me. I would figure a $10-$20 opener with the fob. I listed the B-13 Biltmore Westchester NY result because I would have paid maybe $3 and it brings $118.50. Could have been a hotel collector but most likely someone who like Westchester, N.Y. items.

B-018-698, Lemp, 4, $157.50

B-021-318, Wilber, 6, $158.50

B-021-318, Wilber, 6, $122.50

B-027-004, Franks, 4, $140.00

“B”s can certainly bring high prices especially brass or rarer types but not many bring over $100.00. I am not sure why the big money for the B-21-318 Wilber as it normally brings $20-$50. It has to be some local collector wanting one badly. I thought I had the only known B-18-698 Lemp and tried to sell mine after this one brought $157.50. I was asking $100.00 and received no bids. The brass B-27-4 Frank had no paint but still did well as maybe the fourth or fifth example known.

B-037-002, Birkenhauer & Berger, 8, $195.27

One of the “sets” I am really proud of is having all three known B-37 beer advertising openers. As far as I know these are the only three known ads of any kind on this style. This example went high but only the second B-37-2 I have seen. A hard type to find.

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

B-072-001, Chattanooga, 2, $236.49

Boy I sure hated to see this one offered for sale. Another opener I thought I had the only known example. Oh well at least mine is in excellent condition. This one looked pretty bad but still generated some interest before selling for $236.49. Jim Osborn was the lucky buyer and now owns both beer B-71s (the other being a B-71-2 Old Colony).

C-011-006, Falstaff, 8, $50.00

C-011-006, Falstaff, 8, $80.09

C-011-UL, Steinerbru Beer, 8, $76.60

Again I am not sure why a C-11-6 Falstaff would go through the roof in price. Even being in great condition I would think $20 would be on the high end and these two above brought a lot more. The C-11-UL Steinerbru was a previously unknown Atlanta, Ga. beer opener and went to a “very serious” Atlanta collector.

D-001-035, Michel, 4, $168.38

D-003-020, Miller, 6, $133.33

Until a few years back I always figured cast iron U. S. beer openers were rarely worth more than $50 except for the harder styles to find. It is not unusual anymore for a good D-1 or D-3 to bring over $100.00. The styles are some of the earliest U. S. beer openers and are generating a lot of interest including several bidders from overseas.

E-003-056, Abner Drury, 6, $131.59

E-003-056, Abner-Drury, 4, $49.99

E-004-999, Coca-Cola Oklahoma City Bottling Co (w/ 3 Misc), 6, $136.49

E-004-999, Drink Cheerwine, 4, $138.50

The wire results consist of one E-3-56 Abner-Drury going for $131.59 and then I listed one and got my opening bid of $49.99. Sometimes a second example works out but it usually scares off bidders if it appears quickly after the first auction. I was runner-up on the E-4 Coca-Cola opener from Oklahoma City. The plan was to sneak in there and buy it. The plan blew up in my face. The last result on the E-4 Cheerwine is a really strange one. One could see $50 for the opener as it is a popular one when offered but $138.50 is way up there.

FBOC-217, Pocket Watch, 8, $172.50

As I have commented many times the last few years, cast iron figural bottle openers are suffering as the reproductions have scared off a lot of collectors. The pocket watch result is shown as that one rarely appears for sale and brought a decent price.

G-005-UL, Mohawk Valley Brewing Co Schenectady NY (w/ 9 Misc), 6, $111.38

Another opener that I truly believed I would sneak in and buy cheaply. Wrong again as a fellow JFO member spotted it also with nine common openers. I did win out and was very happy to add this one to my G-5 collection. Not many beer openers from Mohawk Valley.

H-001-044, Norton Gold Band, 4, $67.76

The H-1 Norton opener comes in three different listings and appears from time to time in each of the three. Not a rare opener but anytime a Norton opener appears on eBay it gathers several bidders. I am assuming a family member wanted it as $67.76 is a lot of money for this H-1.

K-ND-ND, Pabst Blue Ribbon (Porcelain Single Lever Bar Mount), 8, $243.91

This “New Discovery” bar mount will appear in the October issue but your editor was the winner on this one. I have to do some searching but one of the old JFO issues has an ad showing this opener. It is a heavy porcelain opener and Pabst is stenciled in the base and embossed on the handle. It was found at a Kansas Flea Market. It is amazing what great openers continue to turn up that were previously unknown.

L-002-025, Anheuser-Busch K C, 6, $271.99

Jim Osborn beat me out on the L-2-25 Anheuser-Busch from Kansas City. Until this one appeared I had the only one I knew of. Nice buy Jim as the L-2-16 Budweiser-Schlitz from Kansas City has seen several examples sold. Both of the L-2s were from the Mahan Supply Co. in Kansas City. So this made two openers Jim got this quarter (counting the B-7-1-1 Chattanooga) that I thought my collection had the only known opener. Oh well, that is what makes collecting interesting is finding those rare pieces.

L-004-064, Manru Schreiber Brewing, 8, $560.00

Jeb Burruss was all over this opener and placed a bid of $275.00. He was about half way there and finished in fifth place. Whether you like L-4 wooden bottle openers or not, this price result was very impressive. The Manru is known as one of the hard to find and very desirable L-4s. The great condition of this one I am sure ran the bidding up (see Opener Trivia pictures).

L-999-999, (Similar L-1 But Bottle Shaped) Sebewaing Beer (Fantasy), 8, $127.75

Obviously our friend, airborne306, has a good supply of Sebewaing labels to stick on the “L” type drop down bottle openers. He takes a $5 drop down bottle, adds a “rare U. S. beer sticker” and presto, he makes some real easy money. Please be careful. It is one thing to pay $10-$20 for one of these fakes but to pay $127.00 is crazy.

M-002-018, Muehlebach, 6, $175.00

After several attempts by this seller, someone bought this M-2-18 Muehlebach lithographed opener. The seller had dropped the price and the opener was in better than average condition. “M-1”s and “M-2”s are hard to find in nice condition for even the common ones in today’s market. The Muehlebach is definitely one of the harder openers to find in the “M-2” style.

M-003-037, Sheridan (Blue) (w/ M-3-14 Piels & M-3-29 Victor), 6, $236.49

M-003-999, Coca-Cola (No Paint), 4, $103.78

The seller had the M-3-37 Sheridan listed under trays and once again I was ready to sneak in and get a good opener. It was bridesmaid time again as a Wyoming collector ran me over. Any Sheridan slider is hard to come by. The M-3 Coca-Cola slider was only the fourth one I have seen or heard about but with all of the red paint missing, the final price was about right. If it was nice shaped it would bring $300-$500.

M-073-001, Missoula, 8, $330.00

M-073-010, Kessler, 6, $250.50

M-073-014, Budweiser Beckers, 4, $184.49

Slider corkscrews saw same nice prices realized with Missoula and Kessler pieces bringing strong results. I was actually offered the M-73-14 Budweiser/Becker corkscrew and was going to buy it for $100.00. When the pictures arrived I backed out and the owner did much better listing it on eBay. “Good” may have been a generous condition grade but someone paid strong for an off-grade piece.

N-005-999, Coca-Cola, 6, $482.77

N-005-999, Coca-Cola, 6, $213.57

Two different listings for the Coca-Cola boot shaped knife and a big spread with the resulting prices realized. Once again when a second example appears soon after the first, most bidders shy away. Even the lower price shows that Coca-Cola openers, corkscrew and knives are doing well.

O-002-999, Cloverdale Soft Drinks, 8, $190.27

O-002-999, Coca-Cola (In Round Logo) Things Go Better With Coke, 10, $169.49

O-002-999, Drink Coca-Cola Sign of Good Taste, 8, $137.50

O-002-999, Drink Kist Beverages (Pic of Lips), 10, $112.50

O-002-999, Lemmy Lemonade Soda, 10, $152.50

O-002-UL, Hyde Park True Lager Beer (In Logo), 10,

$137.50

O-002-UL, Largay Brewing Red Fox Ale, 6, $160.00

O-006-999, Buckeye Root Beer, 8, $159.00

O-006-999, Cheer Up, 8, $134.50

O-006-UL, Grand Prize Beer, 8, $172.50

O-006-UL, Grand Prize Beer, 8, $147.50

Our “Erickson Find” crowd offered many different wall mounts in great condition for the spring/summer quarter. Most were either UL beer openers or UL soda openers and had not been seen by anyone in the brand names being sold. I tracked at least nine different sellers and they all hide the bidder’s identity. The only reason you hide a bidder’s identity is the seller is either shill bidding (running up the bid) or the seller has multiples and does not want anyone else offering wall mounts to the non-winning bidders. Regardless they are selling some great looking wall mounts.

O-501-999, Coca-Cola (English Wall Mount), 8, $160.32

O-505-999, Big Bill, 6, $169.49

O-505-999, Big Bill (DNMR), 6, $170.06

O-999-999, Starr Flight Malted Milk, 6, $217.50

Starr openers had some hard to find ad ones sold this quarter. The O-505 Big Bill did not meet reserve and was sold without reserve (second listing). The Big Bill wall mount is one of the harder to find O-505 “Long Neck” Starrs. Even harder to find is the Starr “Flight Malted Milk” wall mount. Our JFO Starr historian, John Eblen, was the lucky winner of this one at a good price of $217.50. It has brought much more in the past.

P-017-001, Yuengling, 8, $169.06

P-170-001, Pabst (Red Enamel) (Blades Broken), 2, $305.00

The P-17-1 Yuengling was in great shape and the final price was high because of the condition. The P-170-1 Pabst was in rough shape and I was very surprised at the “very high” final price of $305.00 as the knife was really a filler piece at best. When both blades are broken it is one rough knife.

R-006-002, Sprenger, 8, $161.37

The R-6 result just shows how far FBOC prices have fallen. At one time a solid $500 opener, then a $300-$400 opener and now down to less than $200. Be careful.

Z-Corkscrew, English 19thC Weirs Double Tongs Patent (BIN), 6, $2,344.16

Z-Corkscrew, US 1884 Curly Metal-T Patent w/ Locking Mechanism, 6, $2,080.67

Two nice corkscrew results but the once long list of nice corkscrews on eBay has seen it’s better days. Check the ICCA Auction site for some great corkscrews.

Bottom Right (2): An 1883 Double Can Opener, a very neat mechanical piece that realized $175 this past quarter on eBay.
