P-63-1 Gerst Corkscrew/Opener

A fairly rare (4 or 5 known) corkscrew from Gerst Brewing of Nashville, Tn. The case comes in two colors, black and burgundy. The burgundy case is the easier color to find.

Collections

Besides selling Verne Vollrath's collection, I have also been selling the collection of former JFO member Marc Benjamin. He collected types and anyone interested in a list can email me at the above address.

JFO Newsletter Update Combining Issues

Besides being behind and to make it easier for your editor, the October and January issues and then for July the April and July JFO issues will be combined. It will also allow me to spend more time on the Just For Openers II book for 2013. Your comments are appreciated.

2013 JFO Convention #35 April 10-14 Holiday Inn Opryland Nashville TN

The convention is fast approaching and I have included a registration form for any last minute attendees. We have another nice group planning to attend. Nashville is a really fun town. Bring lots of openers and corkscrews for room-to-room trading and selling. Take the time to bring a display. Contest rules and convention details inside this issue.

Member's Update

Two more long time members passed away last year and both were from Sacramento, Ca. Harry Horn passed on April 29th at the age of 84. Harry was a general breweriana collector and loved openers from Sacramento and car shaped (JFO style A-13) openers. He attended the 1998 JFO Convention in San Francisco. John Fossette passed suddenly on October 5th at 73 years old. John mainly collected "A" type beer openers but had many high quality openers in other categories. He attended the 2004 JFO Convention in San Francisco. Our thoughts and prayers go out to Rosemary Horn and Mandie Fossette and their respective families. Two more great guys go to opener heaven.

35th Anniversary Salute to Original Members

Every five years original club members still active are listed from when Don Bull started JFO in 1978 (Membership numbers 1-20). One member passed away since the 30th list five years ago. It is a good time to also list members who were on board by the time Don issued the second edition of the Just For Openers newsletter. Those membership numbers go up to 200. Those names are also listed below. Thank you all for supporting Just For Openers for 35 years. Names shown with their membership numbers.

Just For Opener II a New Book by Don Bull and John Stanley

Schiffer Publishing contacted Don last fall and was curious if we would update the original Just For Openers book as they would have sold all 5,000 copies by sometime in 2014. At first we thought we could just do another book on all types and just add to the first book but I quickly realized that in the 1998 book we had about 900 types and we were now up 1,600. Many of these I did not own examples so Schiffer agreed for us to create a new book. For “A”s and “B”s we will show all types along with a few other categories but most of the others we will concentrate on older openers. Also when photographing types if I had many or all of the known examples they are included as a “set”.

The initial book proof is due to Schiffer by August 1st. One of the reason this newsletter is so late is because I spent most of December and January rounding up openers I knew I needed to borrow from JFO members. Just about everyone who was asked was able to help and in early February I spent three days at Don’s house shooting pictures. We took almost 2,000 pictures and have used about 1,250 so far. Below is a list of openers I would still like to get pictures of if anyone has a nice condition piece. Also we can use “Point of Purchase” items (original packaging and ads). If you have any of these openers or original packaging please contact your editor.

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

John did retire, right?
You thought the newsletter was in sight.
His efforts have been in another direction,
Helping members sell collections.
Then he and Don Bull were asked to publish another book,
And all their time that took.
Once again John asked his collector friends,
To him their very best openers send.
Then nerves on end that they get here ok,
Before he headed to Don's home one winter day.
Don has all the photography expertise,
To make the perfect picture of every piece.
Now more panic until the openers are all returned,
Until then, the night light burned.
Next was the annual Blue-Gray Show,
And traveling home while the winter winds blow.
John went back to work on March 1st,
But you don't need to fear the worse.
He is only working 11 hours a week,
So the newsletter he will finally tweak.
Now it's time to focus on JFO Convention,
You know I would not forget to Mention.
The Convention Opener is ready to make its debut,
And Display Awards are in the queue.
Collectors will come to the city of country singing,
And with them, their openers bringing.
Where there's a will, there's a way,
And we all have a will,
To be together in Nashville.

Hersey Car Show October 10th 2012 by John Stanley

After retirement I knew it was time for a trip some where so I combined a trip to see Ben and Cornelia Hoffman with a visit to see Boots Queen. As always I have a great time staying with Ben and Cornelia and we had a very good visit with Boots. Everyone was doing well and before I left Ben and I did complete a pretty big trade but we have to keep the details private because some of those "serious" collectors may be bugging us for some of the items that were swapped. I arrived on Sunday, we spent Monday going to see Boots and so Tuesday was an open day. Ben said let's hit the local antique malls and shops. We set out and eventually ended up in Hersey where in one mall there, one booth had a RUSTY R-8-1 Kaier's wall mount for only $200 but it was really rusted. Another booth had the Harley-Davidson motorcycle spinner opener for $685 and you could get 10% off. It looked nice but it was the first one I had seen where the screwdriver tip was beat up so it was a pass. I did end up buying a B-1-33 Finks at a decent price.

We had learned at one early mall that the Hersey Car Show was this week and they always have lots of antiques and collectibles for sale. After a late lunch we tried to get in but only dealers were allowed Tuesday. So back to Ben's house we went and it was actually the next morning when I asked Ben about the possible trade and we completed it. I left mid-morning for home and figured Hersey was somewhat on the way. I got there by 10:30 and got in. The show is HUGE with a lot of empty spots and I only stayed two hours and saw very few small non-car collectibles. I'll be darn if early on I see another supposedly rare Harley-Davidson motorcycle spinner opener. It was in a small riker mount with a Harley-Davidson service pin. There were two prices and being a little excited I honed in on the $275 sticker but it was for the pin. The spinner opener was $1,250! I did look at it and the owner said he would take less but we would have to "spin for" his price or a lower price. I laughed and kept on walking. A few years back I said it was an $800-$1000 opener but too many have turned up and now $300-$500 is the going rate but they can still bring up to $750. I did take a picture of the $1,250 opener. There is probably a crazy Harley collector somewhere who will pay that price or close to it. Picture shows opener and pin. I chuckled all the way back to Durham.

CASH ON DELIVERY (IN A PLAIN WHITE BAG) by Josef L'Africain

After multiple phone calls with the seller of the invisible U-Neek, we both determined that a postal COD might not be the best way to go...But, I couldn't simply let this cork puller languish at this guy's house. It was time to put a plan into action. I called Skip* and asked where exactly he lived. He had mentioned Virginia in a previous conversation, but not the exact town. He gave me the name of the town, and I told him that over the weekend, I would make a few phone calls, and perhaps someone would be able to do a different kind of COD. Instead of using the post office, we would deliver the cash to him, and complete the deal.

Who do I know in Virginia...? I mapped out the distances. Wirtz, VA? Three hours and four minutes of driving one way...Hm...Stanton, VA? One hour and 14 minutes of driving one way...Still too far...I perused the CCC mailing list, what other collectors might be in the area? What other corkscrew collector do I know that would be willing to drive countless miles to go antiquing?? I had just the person in mind (No, not Tommy).

I sent an email off seeing if there were any roadtrips in this particular individual's future. The email that came back was promising, explaining he would be heading to the DC Big Flea in the morning, and then heading towards Leesburg. Leesburg? That is only 35 minutes from Skip*. After working out the details, I set about calling Skip. No answer on his phone, and no possibility of leaving a voicemail.

Painter

This morning, after receiving news that the individual acting on my behalf, was on the road, and heading to his ultimate destination, I called again, and this time got Skip on the phone. He was reluctant to give his actual street address, and thought perhaps the deal could be done at a remote locale. I told him that my agent was on his way, and would be calling him. And, proceeded to forward Skip's phone number to special agent Orrin Painter

After making contact, Agent Painter explained that he had cash in a white paper bag. The clandestine exchange was about to take place. The money drop would be at a McDonalds, where Skip (and hopefully the U-Neek) would be waiting for Agent Painter. An hour or so later, I received confirmation that the deal was done. Agent Painter came away with the U-Neek unscathed, and as luck would have it, with a lead on a pair of ladies legs. In the end, Skip got his cash (on delivery), Agent Painter got a lead on a pair of ladies legs (and a happy meal), and the U-Neek will be put up for auction in April on the ICCAuction. Nice work Agent Painter! And, thanks Skip!

Two I.N. Arment's American Patents for Combination Can Openers and Corkscrew 1880 and 1885

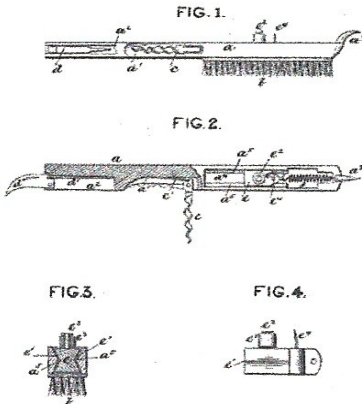

Joe Young

April 2012

Pictured are I.N. Arment's patents for openers for can and bottles.
Arment's first patent, #234,646 of November 23, 1880, incorporates a fold away knife for cutting twine or wire, a folding corkscrew, a large brush and a can opener

Arment's second patent, Patent No. 327,923, (five years later) of October 13, 1885, shows considerable modifications. The brush is no longer present and there is an added second can opener for square or rectangular cans. And, as you can see, the corkscrew folds into the handle as in the first of Arment's patents.

Our example (shown above) comes closest to the second patent with can openers for round and square cans. No longer present are the knife, the corkscrew or the brush. It is marked Pat. Nov. 23, 1880. It is very well made. However, I am disappointed that they didn't incorporate the corkscrew in the final production piece.

Sir Isaac Newton

The full name of the inventor is Isaac Newton Arment. His parents must have had great expectations for their son who was named after, arguably, the greatest scientist of the 17th century - Isaac Newton.

Until I found the patent for this piece, I didn't realize that the opener had such a distinguished pedigree.

Cleaning Using Electrolysis by John Eblen

As collectors, we all use various methods to clean and restore the openers we find that require it. Being a Starr X collector, I've come across many openers that were "brought back to life" after spending most of their life time in a wet or damp environment and left to rust. I discovered the best method to clean them was using electrolysis to remove the rust, paint and dirt accumulated over the years. A word of caution here is that using this method also removes paint and metal plating if the rust is very bad and has gotten beneath it. A good examination of the opener surface and plating should be done before hand in choosing the best method to clean and not to damage them further. Remember, the using of acids, strong chemicals, power wire wheels, buffers, or wire brushes, smears and damages the metal surface or plating on these openers and cannot be reversed after using them.

Parts List

The method is quite simple. Here's is a list of the items needed to clean by electrolysis:

1. 1/2 gallon plastic bucket or container
2. Anode (1/2" dia. stainless bar works the best)
3. Baking soda (Arm & Hammer)
4. Small battery charger (4-6 amp works best)
5. Water
6. Small pieces of copper wire
7. Brass wire brush

Directions

Place the anode in the bucket and fill with water. The anode needs to be long enough to stick up above the water line so you can clamp the + positive (red) battery charger lead to it and leaves enough space for the water to cover your piece. Stir in 1 heaping teaspoon of baking soda into the bucket with water, make sure to dissolve all of it. Using a piece of wood or metal, hang your piece with a piece of copper wire to allow the piece your cleaning to be completely submerged below the surface of the water. Now clamp the - negative (black) lead to the metal hanger or directly to the copper wire holding the part. Make sure the positive and negative leads or the pieces submerged never come into contact with each other when the power is on. Never hook up and reverse the black or red leads as this will damage your part. Turn on (or plug in) the power to the battery charger. A setting of 4-6 amps of current works the best. Do not use a higher setting. Depending on the severity of rust present, a typical cleaning time is about 1 hour. Check on the part during this time period to insure you getting the results you want. Longer cleaning times may be required to remove all the rust deposits. Once your satisfied with the cleaning, remove the part and using the brass wire brush (brass does not scratch the surface), gently scrub the part, dipping the brush in the bucket water several times, to remove any other remaining surface staining you might see to bring out the luster of the plating. Flush the part with clean plain water to remove all traces of the baking soda solution and allow to dry.

Safety Tips: Always wear the proper safety equipment when using the above method. Caution should be used when connecting the battery charger up and never cross the leads or short-out (touch) the positive or negative together when the power is on.

Here's a early Pepsi double dot that I cleaned up for my collection. Notice how rusty is was when I first received it. (before photo). After about an hour using the electrolysis method, I removed it from the bucket and used the brass wire brush to remove any remaining surface stains (after photo). A few places where I saw the plating was nicked up, before we started cleaning it, are now readily visible below the Pepsi name, but not bad.

The finished opener (right above) after the paint dried. Looks almost like new, results may vary.

Guide to Collecting Brown Manufacturing Company Starr Bottle Openers Since 1925 By John Eblen

John's book is a superb history of Brown wall mounts with many historical facts added about the different companies that advertised using a Starr opener. John's research and correspondence with many collectors has allowed to date Starr openers and also he has included a rarity rating scale on each opener. NEHI Leg Knives by Dennis Ellingsen

Dennis wrote an excellent article for Knife World in February, 2008 detailing how to tell a real Nehi leg knife from a reproduction. Below are some of the key pictures from the article. Thanks to Jack Ford for telling me about the write-up. Very few sellers ever admit they are selling the reproduction knife and almost all are the new ones.

Dennis's article had several pictures and I am showing these four. Above are a reproduction and original side by side. Above right is the easiest way to identify an original by the protrusion of the cap lifter hook. All repros have the opener hook flush with the handle. Photo at right shows five different Nehi knives and all are reproductions. Below is a 1982 ad for the reproductions "by the boatloads" for $4 each and you could buy in quantity for $3 each. A 1929 Nehi ad first shows the original Nehi Remington knife and by 1930 a Remington catalog shows the knife pattern as being discontinued. So the original was a short run and explains why it is so hard to find.

Thank you Dennis for finally explaining an easy way to tell if the Nehi knife is a reproduction. He is a member of the Oregon Knife Club and Knife World Newsletter offers many good articles on old knives.

Two different RARE wire bottle openers bought by Larry Moter this past six months on eBay. Above is the E-7-UL Niagara Falls and below is the E-9-UL Carson City. The rare ones still command big $$$!

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

For this issue we have six quarters of eBay results and below are a few of the more interesting results. Ebay has continued it's transformation into an Amazon Auction House with collectibles almost falling into a nuisance category. All of their changes are geared towards retail sales from pricing to a feedback and refund system that totally favors the buyer. But even with these changes eBay remains the best place to sell openers. And as I have mentioned many times the last few years, the ICCA Auction has taken over the corkscrew market place (see ICCA Auction results at the end of the “Opener Trivia” section with prices realized being shown high to low amount).

A-001-035, Fitger Non-Alco, 6, $112.51

A-004-UL, Rahr's Beer That Made Milwaukee Jealous, 6, $102.50

A-013-UL, Here's How Ben E Meyer The Budweiser Man, 6, $123.51

A-017-025, Mischicott (Glued to Board), 6, $80.00

A-017-025, Mishicott, 6, $157.50

A-028-006, Centennial (BIN), 6, $199.95

A-028-006, Centennial, 8, $224.50

A-028-022, Schaller, 8, $166.38

A-028-022, Schaller Eclipse, 6, $79.09

A-042-015, Davenport, 6, $160.49

A-042-UL, Pfeiffer's Famous, 4, $102.50

A-042-UL, Virginia Brewing Roanoke VA (DNMR), 4, $155.00

A-999-999, (Car & Tree) Chevrolet (In Logo) / Kewanee Chevrolet (In Logo) Phone 1670, 4, $169.49

A-999-CAN, Frontenac Beer Truck, 6, $136.49

The A-1 Fitgers Beer without Non-Alco sells for a lot less than the example listed and those Non-Alco words sent this one very high. Rahr beer openers are popular and being unlisted added to the price in this one.

Your editor added the A-13 Budweiser car to my almost complete collection of beer cars (I need the two “F”s, Finks and Fredericksburg cars). I also added the A-17 Mishicott lion head opener after taking a gamble as it was “glued” to a board. A prior sale of the A-17 had sold for $157.50. The gamble paid off but then $80 is not cheap either.

Two different sales of the A-28-6 Centennial bottle shape with a gas key went very high. For beer openers it usually depends on the ad and some Montana collectors really wanted these openers. Same deal on the A-28 Schaller openers though not as crazy as the Centennial openers but some Cincinnati collectors bid heavy.

Three different sales of A-42 fish shaped openers saw some high prices but with two of them being Unlisted and the Davenport was only the second one I have seen, the final values are not that out of line.

Finally for the “A” figurals, two different car/truck shaped openers were sold. The Chevrolet car is very desirable and has gone much higher than this one at $169.49. The Frontenac truck from Canada is another very popular figurial. The final price of $136.49 is not cheap but it is nice looking truck.

B-002-035, Husa, 6, $202.50

B-002-035, Husa (BIN), 8, $200.00

B-002-035, Husa Bangor, 6, $137.50

B-002-035, Husa Bangor (BIN), 6, $195.00

B-007-019, Bohrer, 6, $155.55

B-018-217, Reisch, 4, $284.00

B-018-568, Pechstein & Nagel, 6, $238.50

B-018-599, Husa Bangor (BIN), 4, $153.51

B-018-676, Boise, 4, $66.01

B-018-676, Boise, 6, $129.49

B-018-UL, John Walter Brewing Co Eau Claire Wis, 6, $209.71

B-019-UL, John Hauck Brewing Cincinnati, 6, $102.50

B-021-493, Owyhee (w/ Picnic Paper Package), 6, $131.50

B-045-999, Denhalter Bottling Salt Lake City, 6, $137.51

B-060-001, Bartl (BIN), 6, $250.00

B-072-002, Old Colony, 6, $262.55

One rumor we can put to rest is that a B-2-35 Huss is a rare opener. Four examples sell this past six months with the lowest result being $137.50. The previous issue one had sold for $350.00 and I would think by now anyone needing this opener would have it. The buttonhook B-7 Bohrer was a high price but many B-7s are very hard to find.

The B-18s were all rare openers and the prices realized show this. Like B-19s and B-21s the B-18s have prices from a $1 to $300 and everything depends on the brewery name. The B-21-493 Owyhee was neat with the original envelope and the final price of $131.50 was not that crazy.

Another B-45 from Salt Lake City was sold and the salesman for this style worked almost entirely in this city. The lone known beer ad for Lemp Beer is from Salt Lake City and at least four other B-45s are from there. The B-60 Bartl was snapped up quickly with the Buy-It-Now and was from Verne's collection. I actually had an inquiry the next morning from a Wisconsin collector wanting to know why the listing had disappeared.

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

At the 2008 JFO Convention in St. Louis I traded the only known at that time B-72-2 Old Colony to Jim Osborn. I did regret it later but was very happy when this second example appeared on eBay. The price was not cheap but now I have the B-72 set and the other B-72 from Chattanooga is reunited with her sister. Amazingly there are now two known sets of B-72s. I have one set and Jim Osborn has the other.

CBO-BB-19, Miller, Debrul & Peters Mfg, 8, $67.98

CBO-HOR-05, Colon Mild Havana Cigars, 8, $116.49

CBO's are really fun to collect and I have bought quite a few the last few years. I was able to buy the CBO-BB-19 and think it is the first time an actual one has been found as the CBO guide just shows a drawing. I was not so lucky on the CBO-HOR-05 and lost out to a Seattle collector. For the most part most CBOs sell for less than $25 and like anything the harder to find styles bring more money.

D-001-032, Lange, 6, $107.50

D-001-035, C&J Michel, 6, $100.00

D-003-020, Miller, 6, $111.00

D-003-020, Miller, 4, $31.40

The first three sales were from Verne's collection as many “D” cast iron openers have been hot in the market place. I threw in a token bid for the D-3-20 Miller and won it at $31.40. Like many things on eBay the prices are all over the place.

E-004-145, Senate, 6, $117.50

E-004-999, (w/ Screwdriver Tip) William H Nobman The Winchester Store / Oyster Bay NY, 6, $189.99

E-007-UL, Niagara Falls Brewing Spray Beer, 6, $205.00

E-009-UL, Carson City Brewing Tahoe Beer, 6, $202.19

A few really good wire examples are listed above with the E-4-145 Senate going over a $100 and I am not sure why. A fairly hard to find opener but they do turn up. The E-4 Winchester opener was the first time I had seen this ad and the starting price was $189.99 and I assume a Winchester collector bought it. I would call this a crazy price. It certainly caught my eye.

Larry Moter was on a roll buying two never seen before wires but he had to step up big time on both. Congratulations to Larry and the E-9 Carson City is the first opener with the brewery name on it that has been discovered (there are some Tahoe ad openers). Niagara Falls and Spray on the same opener (I believe one key style has both) made this one a hotly pursued by New York collectors.

FBOC-024, Mexican Cactus (BIN), 8, $175.00

FBOC-422, Amish Man, 6, $500.00

Just a couple of the harder to find Cast Iron figural results are shown. Ebay always has lots of common and repros for sale. The Mexican Cactus is hard to find and would certainly have brought more a few years back but considering today's market the price of $175 (Buy-It-Now) was jumped on by one collector.

One of the most desirable if not the most desirable figural bottle openers is the FBOC-422 Amish Man. I have mentioned before it was easily in the $1,500-$2,000 range at one time and once again $500.00 is not that bad of a result as the condition on this one was just very good. If you like cast iron figurals now is a good time to buy but be very careful.

I-012-038, Hamms (Box of 500), 10, $330.00

Another comment I have made before is the only thing worse than having a common opener is having a bunch of the same common opener! I keep assuming and in this case hopefully someone bought these for a giveaway somewhere. The seller had several boxes and this one brought the most.

M-002-012, Berry, 6, $152.50

M-073-001, Missoula (Blue), 8, $260.00

M-073-014, Budweiser Becker, 8, $188.20

M-073-999, Electro-Chemical (Red), 6, $255.69

M-154-001, Bridgeport (MIB), 10, $240.75

One lithograph opener result and the M-2-12 Berry is hard to find and someone got a good buy. The M-73 corkscrew sliders saw lots of action the last two quarters and the results are in line with what they have been bringing with beer ads or if they are from the Electro-Chemical Co.

The M-154-1 Bridgeport is a nice heavy brass tap handle made in the last 10 years. Why it went crazy I am not sure. Granted you do not see them for sale very often but multiple people went crazy chasing this one. I had one extra and sold it for $25 (what I thought was the going price) in 2010 and then later sold another one for $40 (what the brewery sold them for with shipping).

N-029-999, Drink Coca-Cola In Bottles Pure As Sunlight, 8, $256.07

Coca-Cola pencil types whether they are the N-22 or N-29 the price goes way up. N-22s have brought over $500 and this N-29 had a lot of attention before closing at $256.07. For Coca-Cola collectors not a big price but pretty serious money for sure.

- O-001-UL, Walters Eau Claire Wisc, 8, $293.00
- O-006-999, Donald Duck (Pic of Donald Duck) Soft Drinks, 10, $283.00
- O-006-UL, Krueger's Beer & Ale, 8, $231.61
- O-012-001, Pabst, 6, $255.00
- O-502-999, Coca-Cola, 6, $430.99
- O-502-999, Coca-Cola (Covered in White Paint), 2, $359.44
- O-509-999, Dr Pepper, 8, $359.00

Many wall mount types in this group and our Erickson sellers have been going strong. I keep mentioning someone must have found the Erickson archives as they are offering so many never seen before wall mounts. The one common factor is the thick enamelling and not like your usual standard O-2 or O-6. If someone is making these up they have a great imagination. There are a lot of great ads on them with most being soda brands.

The O-1 wall mount type is one I have several of and wanted the Walters. I figured $150.00 would cover it and was a distant fourth place. The final price was unreal but a very serious Walters collector won the opener.

The O-12 Pabst brought a fair price at $255.00. It has sold anywhere from $150-$400 in the past. The two O-502 Coca-Cola side wall mounts were very sought after by the Coca-Cola and wall mount collectors. The one with white paint was very surprising for what it brought considering condition. The O-509 Dr. Pepper went very high but the style, a Deluxe De-capper, with a nice full decal sent the price that high and being Dr. Pepper helped also.

P-009-022, Virginia, 6, $240.06

P-026-017, Bergner & Engel, 8, $333.00

Just a couple of the many beer advertising corkscrew results. The P-9 Virginia was in nice condition and items from the Roanoke, Va. Brewery are very popular with collectors. The Bergner & Engel knife was in great shape and ending price was fairly high but condition won out. There were numerous Anheuser-Busch knife sales the last six months but none that were real exciting. The A-B knives just keep turning up in numbers.

R-008-001, Kaier (FBOC-405 Miner), 6, $350.00

Another one time very desirable cast iron opener from Verne Vollrath's collection. Just a few years back I paid $350 for mine and was very happy to get it at that price. Today $350 is on the high end and I keep thinking just how low can cast iron prices go.

Z-Corkscrew, English 19thC BB Wells Winged Nut, 8, $3,857.66

Z-Corkscrew, French 1830 Deleuz Champagne Tap Patent (Ornate), 8, $2,800.00

Z-Corkscrew, German 1882 Valentin-Rasch Patent # 20,803, 8, $4,184.78

In my opening statements I mentioned that the ICCA Auction has taken the lead in selling quality corkscrews but a few good pieces still show up on eBay. Three of the best are shown above and usually the better ones are foreign. The good American corkscrews are listed with the ICCA.

Ebay is still a great place to find good openers and in fact is much better than any other arena. Unless you buy a collection or come to the JFO Convention you would be hard pressed to find quality openers at one time anywhere else. Comments from members are welcomed.

Don Bull showed this ad in an early JFO Newsletter (Oct/1981) for a generic K-16.

Sometimes You Just Have To Be Persistent by John Stanley

In early June an unlisted A-1 malt opener from San Diego was put on eBay and I turned it over to Jeb Burruss to bid on as he loves A-1s. Wouldn't you know Jeb forgot to bid as he was tied up at work. Someone bought the lot for $16 and change. The seller had listed it under Keys as the opener was in with 10 old door keys. Then the real luck began. The lot sold on June 9th and I saved the listing information. After a week I first asked the seller if he would contact the buyer to see if the buyer would sell me the opener and got no response. It took a couple of weeks for me to figure out if I check the seller's feedback, the buyer would probably leave feedback and I could get his eBay ID. The buyer did leave feedback so I emailed him. Another three weeks went by when the buyer finally responded and said he was traveling but would see if he still had it when he got home. This was on July 14th and finally when I had heard nothing I emailed buyer again on August 7th to see if he had the opener and on August 13th he emailed and said, yes he had it and how much would I be willing to pay. I told him $20 and on August 18th he said that was acceptable to him and he said I could send money using PayPal. So far we had been using eBay messaging and it does not show a person's real email address. So I needed his and sent an eBay email asking. His reply came back but eBay had overwritten the email with their standard message of "<email address removed per policy>". Well darn, so close but so far away. I emailed him and told him to try again but no response so then I sent mine as jfo @ mindspring.com . He finally responded outside of eBay using my email address. Through PayPal I sent the $20 and he sent the opener, receipt certified. I finally got the opener on August 24th, the day I retired. Persistence did pay off but I had a lot of doubt the entire way.

A very unusual combination Stove Lid Lifter, Corkscrew and Crown (Bottle) Opener that was offered on eBay (I did not record the sale price). Have any corkscrew collectors seen this combination before. Ad is for the Pacific Coast Coal Co. of Portland, Oregon. It is always great to get a rare piece in mint condition in the original box.
