B-1-28 Reno

One of the harder to find B-1s. Since there are very few beer openers from Las Vegas I will concentrate on Reno openers for header pictures.

2012 JFO Convention #34 April 18-22 The Palms Las Vegas NV

A few members have already made plans and it is not too early for you do the same. Las Vegas is a city to visit and have fun. I have been one time in 1969 as a Boy Scout. My group ate at a casino and I was itching to pull some slot handles but with a uniform on it would not have looked good. We stayed one night in town and UNLV provided our sleeping quarters. I am very much looking forward to see how the town has changed.

If you can plan it, John Cartwright has told me that the home of "Pawn Stars" is worth a visit and some good antique malls are nearby. Gambling, shows, Pawn Shops and tons of openers and corkscrews. What more could a collector ask for? The Palms is a great hotel. Member's registration will be in the October issue. Save your money, come to Vegas!

2011 New Discoveries

It is time to send any New Discoveries for the October issue. I would like to receive any pictures or openers by September 21st. At this point I have many new openers so if you can please email me with information first.

Collections For Sale

Former member, Dick Spencer, has decided to sell his collection. You may email him at rchrd.spencer@yahoo.com for a complete list with prices. Openers are individually priced.

2011 JFO Convention Cedar Rapids Iowa

A big special thank you to Scott and Ursula Williams for hosting an outstanding convention. The open house tour was worth the trip to Iowa alone. Scott's collection was awesome and easily accessible by everyone. The Amana Colonies tour was a great lead-in for the home tour. Middle Amana had several good antique shops, the museum was a super visit with the film telling the history of the Amana Colonies followed by a visit to the Millstream Brewery and then a fine lunch. Scott went to high school with Sue Snyder who was our main sales person. The hotel was laid out well and the hospitality room was one of the best we ever had. With Sue's help the hotel staff was very friendly and helpful. The only minor complaint was service at the hotel restaurant could be slow (make that very slow). The weather was gloomy for the most part except the one day we needed sunshine (yes Sandra Emme attended the convention) and that happened on Friday when we went to Middle Amana and Scott's house. I must thank Jeb Burruss and Gary Deachman for running the auction Friday night. Besides the official JFO photographer, Alex Redl, a big thanks to Darlene Atwood, Tommy Campnell, Josef L'Africain, Marge Stahly, Bonnie Teggatz and Jackie Young for providing pictures. For me personally the convention week always passes too quickly but the JFO crowd makes it very special. If you haven't been before make Las Vegas your first and see what you have been missing.

Members Update

Phyllis Gormally has progressed very well with her battle against breast cancer. As far as I know Herb Danziger and Jim Osborn are also doing well. JFO lost Robert Schmidt on June 26th at the age of 81. Robert had attended several JFO conventions and enjoyed collecting all types of openers. His daughter, Pamela, attended with him and was the life of the hospitality room. Our thoughts and prayers go out the Schmidt family.

It is with great sadness I report the passing of Scott and Ursula's son, Morgan, on July 1st after a long battle with leukemia. Morgan was 28, much too young to leave this world. Our most heartfelt thoughts and prayers go out to Scott and Ursula. He was not doing that well during JFO convention time but Scott held a wonderful convention.

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

Our pleasant visit to Amana Colonies seems so long ago. One can only reflect on the peaceful feeling that going back to the early days of Amana brings. It makes you want to leave the hectic life we now lead and go back to this era.

When I heard that Scott rides his bike along pathways to the brewery where he can sit outside and enjoy the beauty of nature and a good brew, life in Amana had a drawing appeal.

I felt the warmth of a community that knows its neighbors and that was a comfort to their JFO friends as we knew that Scott and Ursula needed them during the long battle their son Morgan made. We were sad to hear that things changed quickly after the JFO convention and Morgan life's ended much too young. He will be remembered as a brave young man who faced many treatments with a positive attitude always focused on recovery.

The remaining bottles of Rhubard Wine I have from the case I bought from the Wine and Cheese shop do bring back some of the tranquility and fond memories of our visit. Unfortunately they don't ship to North Carolina.

Fortunately we did have our close knit group to continue the unity felt in Amana, our wonderful JFO family. The Canadians always are a reminder to enjoy life with lots of laughter. They bring back warm memories I have when we went back to Canada to spend time with relatives. Irish Eyes did sparkle, filled with laughter and a good bit of mischief too!

It was great to see some friends who had been missing for some time. I enjoyed visiting with some spouses I had not spent much time with at other conventions. We keep in touch with so many JFO friends throughout the year and hope to see them again in Las Vegas.

Louy Stambaugh convinced me that I should try a snorkel when I swim and so I am often reminded of this JFO friend when swimming. Bonnie Stilwell came this year for the historical visit to Amana. Hopefully she will come in the future….after all there is a lot of history attached to openers! Enjoyed visiting with Darlene Atwood more this year. Her easy going nature is being tested now as she helps Gary Deachman with his new computer!! He finally did it and I think he must already be hooked as I hear John talking to him more often now.

Jackie knits shawls for cancer patients and invited everyone to ties some fringe knots for one of her creations for a very special JFO friend, Phyllis Gormally, who missed this convention due to her treatments. Phyllis sends her thanks to everyone. She feels the caring warmth of all who were a part of this beautiful gift. Bonnie Teggatz understands how much that gift means as she has been down that road. It was good to have her back at JFO this year.

From Phyllis: "I would like to thank the women and men of JFO for the help in the making of the prayer shawl that Jackie Young started at the convention in Iowa. I received it yesterday and was so surprised. It is something I will never forget. I shed a few tears thinking that everyone cared so much. I will use it and know the love that was put into it. I am doing ok, finished with chemo and the pain is gone. My hair is coming back, and so far things are good. So thanks again to everyone. I now know that JFO is a great family."

Although I've said this before, I must say it again. The Hanolds are always an inspiration. If any JFO member ever needs a role model , they will find strength in knowing how the Hanolds handle their challenges. I recently had to get a wheelchair out of the back seat of a compact car and then came the really hard part, getting it back in the car. Of course the Hanolds came to mind.

We had a pre-convention visit with Bob and Marge Stahly as we stopped for a visit in Streator on the way to JFO. We didn't get to see Bob's farm, as the openers in his basement were John's focus. Marge contacted us ahead to see what John could eat and made a great lunch we all enjoyed.

The first thank you note I received for the rice bags I made for every spouse/member was from the Jays. I'm glad everyone seemed to like them…and John was glad that we didn't have to bring thirty some of them home again. Could not believe they did not have a microwave in the hospitality room so we could test them out, but that was the only thing missing. (I was impressed with their trash cans that were dressed with cloths as one year a hotel in Durham would not even provide trash cans without a fee…much less ones covered up…I even took a picture of one this year!).

Can't leave out two couples who seem so well matched, the Hoffmans and the Redls. Ben and Cornelia never seem to age. They call John their red-headed step-son which is good as they are good role models (except for encouraging him to add more to his collection). I'm sure a lot of the pictures in this issue will be ones contributed by Alex. Hope Alex and Peg are still getting along so well now that both are retired and around each other most of the time!

Although Scott and Ursula had been spending a lot of time in Chicago with Morgan, they still opened their home to the JFO crowd, making us feel so very welcomed.

There were a few spouses I did not get to spend time with, but hope to visit with them in Las Vegas next year.

I didn't have dog duty this year, but I did have food duty. Although I am very aware that John has to eat frequently, small snacks or meals, the reality really hit when I had to go pick up food. At home I just have to keep food in stock. In Iowa, I had to venture out with my GPS to find the latest request.

Upon my return, it was easy to find him due to our great set up this year. It was like having a constant Saturday Show with a display room attached to the hospitality room.

After saying good-bye to this wonderful group of people, we headed home after one more stop….to visit with Shirley Hibbeler and have lunch. She plans to come to Vegas. Not sure if the people or the gambling are the incentive!! We all know it's both.

After leaving Shirley's we knew If we pushed it, we would be able to get Jazzy and Snazzy out of boarding the second day on the road, rather than having them spend another night. The night owl (Pat) kicked in and we got our most precious Yorkies home again.

I tell people that the dogs and openers compete for 1st and 2nd place in John's heart. The most I can ever be is 3rd, but I'm still a collectible, even if it is because of my age!

When I win the jackpot in Las Vegas, I may move up to #1.

Thanks for Making JFO 2011 Such a Great Time!

33rd JFO Convention Cedar Rapids, Iowa April 27-May 1

The dogs were being boarded and their space was being taken by 1,500 openers and corkscrews from the Ollie Hibbeler collection. I had picked up the collection from Shirley at the Spring Belleville beer show. Adding in my openers, clothing and supplies for eight days we were at capacity. Of course I had to do my usual departure chores of steam cleaning our carpets so it was almost 11AM when we left Durham on Monday the 26th.

Our intention was to make the Indiana-Illinois border the first day and thanks to Pat's late shift driving we made Danville, Il. by 11PM. The next morning we were on the road by 8AM and headed to Streator, Il. to visit the Stahlys for lunch and of course some "opener trading" with Bob. We arrived at their house close to noon and Bob said let's check out his opener basement before we ate. I like dealing with Bob because he wants to get down to business pretty quickly. I showed him four openers, an O-2 Colonial, an O-2 Wee Willy, an O-6 Arrow and a B-2-44 East Side. Bob has all of his openers neatly displayed in flat cases or hanging on either peg or pin boards. An initial search and I honed in on an A-37-1 Hand and four O-8s (Black Forest, Breckenridge, Sterling and Coca-Cola). We broke for lunch and afterwards we completed the trade, his four for my five. Bob has a tremendous collection of O-2s and O-6s and he filled an A-type void and greatly enhanced my O-8s for my end of the deal.

Pat and I visited for awhile and at 3PM headed for Cedar Rapids and JFO Convention #33. We arrived at 6:30 and I started the process of unloading the full Ford Expedition. A couple of large bell hop cart hauls and everything was in our second floor room. The Marriott staff was nice enough to allow us access to the hospitality room which for the first time I know of would also act as our Saturday show space also. The sitting area was nice sized and had a meeting room (called the Waterloo room) connected with 12 six foot tables set up. Members who wanted to could display their openers in this room for all four days of the convention. Of course I needed four tables to put mine and Ollie's openers.

After supper I started hauling openers in and the early arrivals of John Cartwright, Pat Stambaugh, Mike Krejci and Art Santen checked out the initial set up and it took the rest of the night for them to make their initial pass through the collection. Lots of Riker mounts and bags of openers and corkscrews to check out. Several sells were completed. John, Mike and Pat decided to use parts of tables to display their openers for the show. Having a side room where members could set up proved to be a real plus and made buying and selling very convenient. As always at the convention, I turned in late (at least for me) at 11:30PM. The convention was off to a great start.

Wednesday was the big arrival day for many members and among them were Josef L'Africain and Tommy Campnell, the JFO young corkscrew gurus at the convention. They made many purchases of Ollie's corkscrews with mainly Tommy making most of the early buys. He had to make a quick ATM trip for some cash. Josef and I started an early trade for a Old Crow combination knife and corkscrew I had and it must be pointed out the worm was short (missing the tip) so Josef and Tommy decided my new knick name would be "Tip-Wormed Johnny". He first offered a M-73 Heurich, a M-73 Hotel Placer (Red) and a P-9-UL Peter Hand and it was a good offer. I wanted a M-73 Gordon Gin instead of the P-9. Josef said too much so the trade was put on hold.

Sales were strong for myself and other folks in the show room were doing well also. We had Joe Young arrive to tell us the history of many openers, can openers and corkscrews. It was Joe and Jackie's first convention since 2007 and it was great seeing them. They had such a good time they changed their plans and stayed over Saturday night. Scott Williams had selected a great location for the JFO Convention. The only complaint was service could be slow at the hotel restaurant but the food there for the most part was very good. By Wednesday evening the table space in the Waterloo room was just about full. It sure makes wheeling and dealing a lot easier with all of the openers in one spot. Speaking of that Josef and I completed the trade with myself receiving the Heurich and Hotel Placer slide-out corkscrews along with a Fink Brewing show horn and buttonhook (no opener) along with an A-13 non-beverage car. "Tip-Wormed Johnny" made Josef's blog for the day.

Thursday was the arrival date of most of the other registrants. Another full day of buying and selling with lots of action going on. Some of the heavyweight collectors showed up including Norm Jay and Ben Hoffman. First time attendee, Tom Minne, brought a thousand openers to sell and you got to name your price. The hospitality room was very busy with the women having a nice area to "talk" while the men could do their thing in the next room. We learned that Sandra Emme had planned to arrive in Cedar Rapids at 1PM on Wednesday but due to a canceled flight and a leaking fuel line she did not leave Baltimore until 7:30 that evening and flying through Minneapolis arrived at midnight. A long long day to stay the least but it was great she made it. It's hard to keep a good JFO member down.

One opener I was very happy to get from Ray Hanson was an H-10-4 Breidt. Ray got the H-10 many years ago in a JFO auction before I was collecting H-10s and it was one of three I had been missing. Thank you Ray for selling me this over-the-top corkscrew and bottle opener. The convention is about helping your fellow members build their collection and displaying some of your favorite items from your collection. It is also a good chance to visit area antique malls and shops for anyone who is too restless to stay at the hotel all day. I can say Norm Jay and Pat Stambaugh had a two day trade going on that involved several areas of breweriana and rumor has it the trade was made.

After looking at Ollie's big pile of openers I had for sale I thought very little was being sold but with two good days "dents" could be seen. All kinds of his openers were selling, "A"s, "B"s, types, Missouri and last but not least plastic. Let's just say Anheuser-Busch has put out a lot of different opener styles. It was my third straight late night and everyone was having a great time except maybe if you were in a hurry to get food at the restaurant. Oh well everything cannot be perfect.

Friday was the tour day for the JFO group to Middle Amana to see the Amana Colonies Museum and walk the town checking out the stores, antique shops and finally to check out the Millstream Brewing Co. We carpooled over to the town and the trip took about 30 minutes. It was the one beautiful weather day of the week. We arrived around 10AM and the group started at the museum where Scott works part-time with a 20 minute film on the history of the Amana Colonies. Scott's mother was a colony member and married his dad who was considered an "outsider". The original communal concept fell apart in 1932 so all of the members had to join regular society. I think Scott's opener hobby would have been frowned upon.

After the film session we were free to roam the town before our noon three table group lunch. Most of us headed to the other end of town and saw the Millstream Brewing Co. and of course the brewery sold us many openers but no new styles. Several of us then "antiqued" our way back to the restaurant and thanks to John Cartwright I did get a E-4 Kist Soda from Marshalltown, Iowa in one of the shops. Everyone enjoyed the lunch and then we hit a couple of antique malls before it was time to head over to Scott's house to view his collection.

It was about this time I got a call from Tommy Campnell saying Josef and he had found the "Lost Dutchman Gold Mine of Corkscrews". His call kept going in out but I made out they had found a collection of 3,000 corkscrews and had bought about 60 pieces between the two of them. More to follow on this story of the incredible discovery. It does pay to come to JFO.

Scott's collection is simply awesome. A great Iowa collection, great types especially "A"s, "B"s, "B-24"s, "I-7"s, "I-17"s and knives with an opener incorporated in the handle make up the majority of his collection. His major items were displayed on three tables in the dining room. Everyone could move around and check the wonderful collection out. He mainly uses Riker Mounts to display his openers. Scott and Ursula were great hosts and his restored 1850s house was very impressive. Members started heading back to the hotel between 4:00 and 4:30.

Of course two members who made the house tour were Tommy and Josef, still all excited about their big find. They had visited an antique mall about an hour away that was located in an old church. The proprietor did not have any corkscrews but knew a local woman who had a collection. She called the woman up and handed the phone to Josef who was told to give the woman an hour to set up and they could come on over. Once at the woman's house there were corkscrews laid out everywhere and Josef realized he had dealt with the woman on eBay. Now most of the 3,000 corkscrews were low-end but between Tommy and himself they bought about 60 pieces at very good prices.

The woman was wanting to deal. Josef did some research after the big buy and discovered he had bought a rare "White U. S. 1883 Patent" corkscrew and even though it was missing a wing nut would bring mucho dollars to the right collector. It was the second example found of the corkscrew which was patented by an Iowa resident. To say the fellows were on cloud nine would be an understatement.

Back at the hotel we got to examine the "corkscrew haul" and it was very impressive. It was also time for supper and a small JFO auction would take place at 8PM in the hospitality room. For the first time in a while we actually had some nice lots. Among the openers were an A-41-1 Medford Dog, a M-2-20 Duluth and a Z-1-1 Cremo. Most items sold with a few passes. A big thank you to Gary Deachman and Jeb Burruss for running the auction and with Pat Stanley being the sales recorder. The crowd had a good time and by 9PM we were finished. At this point the hotel catering folks wanted in to set up the hospitality room and outside atrium for the Saturday morning show. I will apologize for running most everyone out but the hotel was on a tight schedule. Thank you to members for putting up with "Grumpy Johnny". A few people remained but most everyone turned in early after a few big party days.

Early Saturday morning and the hotel has everything ready to go table wise. Maneuvering around the tables and displays would be a tight but we made it work. I had allowed three tables for displays and with 30 members in attendance, 10 brought large displays and six brought Bill McKienzie displays. Thanks to the fine article on Scott in the local paper we had a nice walk-in crowd. Up until 1PM we always had several visitors in the rooms.

The displays were all great and thank you to everyone for putting their time and effort into doing one and also bringing it to the convention. Knowing space would be an issue, I had requested small displays but we had several large ones. My apologies to everyone and again thank you for making the effort no matter how big it turned out. Winners of the regular display contest were Mike Krejci for his "Blatz" display in a large wooden triangle (Blatz used a triangle logo) which won first place, John Stanley's "Tribute to Ollie Hibbeler" display which finished second and Bob Stahly's "Painted Wall Mount" display which finished third and must have contained most of the known "O-2" and "O-6" wall mounts known. Darvin Stilwell's fine K-12-1 Lone Star bar mount display won the "Bill McKienzie Best of Show" award. Again thank you for all of the excellent displays.

Sales for the Saturday show were fairly steady and I did well with one of our local members who could only attend the public show, Greg Loy. He had known Ollie Hibbeler and bought several of his openers. Greg was accompanied by his wife Karen who maintains their inventory on her palm PC. She also told me she is in charge of bidding on openers on eBay and does not use a "Snipe Service". Are you listening Pat Stanley? I finished the show off by selling five knives to Norm Jay. A deal we had started on at Belleville the first day of April. Norm also told me that Pat Stambaugh and he had completed their three night and day trading session with several pieces of breweriana and some non-beer stuff changing hands.

For once when the show ended I did not have to hurry and pack up. We had the room for the afternoon and it took me most of the time to load and transport most out to the Expedition. I was finished by 5PM and we had plans for a group supper at a local Mexican Restaurant. Jeb lined up the hotel shuttle to take 22 (2 trips) of us to restaurant at 6:30. Great idea and we were waited on fairly quickly. Most people had really good food but the Stanleys was just so -so. Sometimes you guess right and sometimes you don't. The price was very reasonable and the shuttle returned everyone back at the hotel without any problems.

Our Canadian friends, Mike, John, Theresa and Mary, had a few warm-up drinks and were in rare form for our hospitality room finale from 8:30 to 11. At least the women were in rare form telling jokes on their beloved husbands and themselves. We also had the services of master joke teller, Alex Redl, and unfortunately they cannot be printed in this newsletter. After this fun session, anyone who attended will not forget the cackle of Tommy Campnell. It was pretty darn funny in itself. I always say the convention goes by quickly and this one went by very fast. Thanks again to all who attended, to everyone who brought a display, to local host Scott Williams for a great hotel, day trip and house tour and to my official photographer, Alex.

The members always make this a special event and JFO #33 was a blast from the opening minute until the very end. Las Vegas promises to be a great location, start planning now. If nothing else there is a lot of gambling and great shows to attend! The Palms will be a super location and hotel. Be there!

The Stanleys were up fairly early and thanks to the frigid Iowa Sunday morning we were moving pretty quickly. Our return trip was taking us to St. Louis to visit Shirley Hibbeler for lunch. We hardly saw anything for the first three hours until we got near Hannibal, Mo. It was a very easy trip and we spent about three hours with Shirley. Even though I had picked up 2,500 openers the end of March, Shirley said her daughter commented in her basement, "I thought he picked up Dad's collection". I left a bunch of foreign and miscellaneous and some openers hanging on the walls. Ollie had many plastic tubs it was hard to tell much was missing but there were a lot of gaps.

Shirley is doing fine and she really is planning on being in Las Vegas next April. We had lunch, a good visit and I even picked up a few more can piercers to bring home. We headed out of town at 3PM and thanks to my night-owl driving wife, we made Knoxville by 1:45AM. We stayed at a nice Hampton Inn at the Dollywood exit. We slept a few hours and had six hours home but with a few side stops it was close to 5PM when we picked the girls up and got home finally at 5:30. It was a great trip, great convention and simply a great bunch of people to be around. See you next year in "Vegas". Just remember, "what happens in Vegas will not stay in Vegas, I will tell all"!

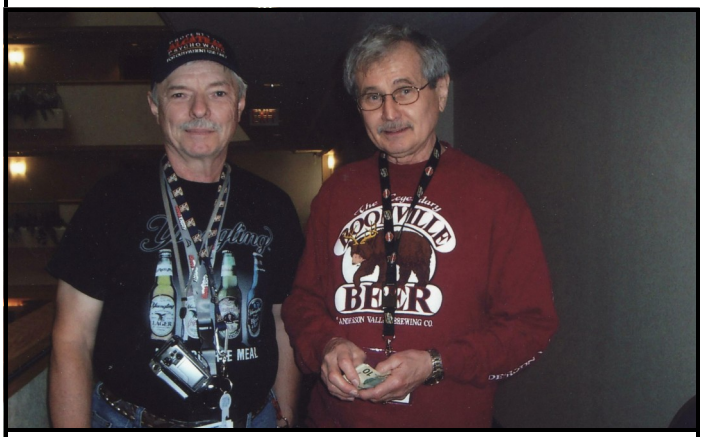
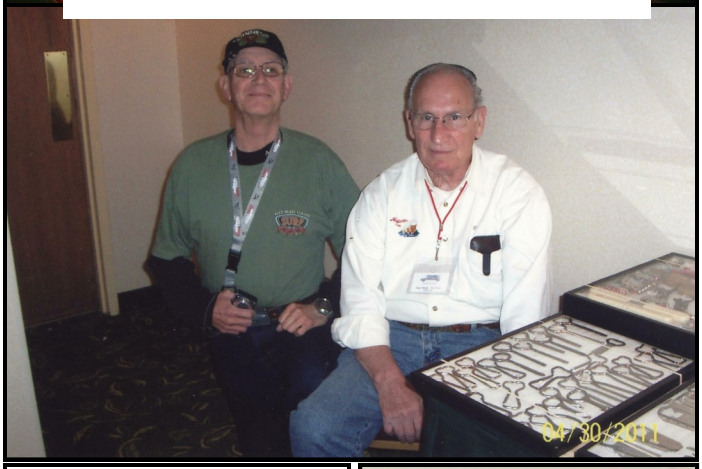
A great JFO couple: Cornelia & Ben Hoffman.



Looks like Mike Krejci has Darvin Stilwell pulling out some cash. Remember Darvin is from Boonville, Indiana with no middle "E" in Boonville.

Mike tries to get money from Bob Stahly below but Bob is going to "stick it" to Mike if he doesn't get a good deal. Joe Young is sitting and watching.

I had to leave it to Marge Stahly to get a good picture of two camera shy people, Harriet Waldo and Sandra "Sunshine" Emme.



Two of Nebraska's finest: Alex Redl and John Mlady. Watch them Cornhuskers, they can drive a hard bargain!

John Stanley's entry in the "Bill McKienzie Best in Show" award, a K-10-1 Schlitz with a slide-out shelf to allow the use of short or tall beer cans. As I write this newsletter, there is one for sale on eBay with no paint. A "rare bird" as Joe Young would say. This one was originally was in the Don Bull collection. Before the eBay sale I had seen one other example.

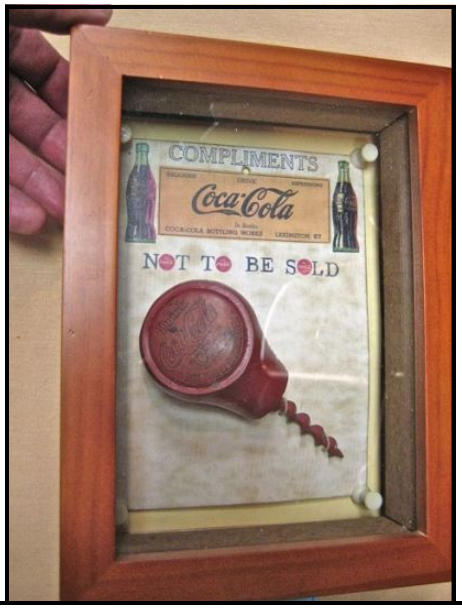
Left: Darvin Stillwell's winning Bill McKienzie display, a K-12-1 Lone Star with a great write-up and a extra large cutout of the actual opener in the shape of Texas. Top: Ben Hoffman's N-22-11 Reno, the only known example of this pencil. Below N-22: Pat Stambaugh's M-156 Alexandria, again the only known example of a rare Minnesota opener and not much breweriana turns up from Alexandria. Right: Mike Krejci's P-51-UL Schlitz Beer from Ottumwa, Iowa and a recent purchase by Mike, I am sure Iowa collectors Scott Williams and Greg Loy were jealous.



Far Left: Joe Young's large "drill press" can opener, a heavy duty opener that operated just like a drill press and does not have any advertising but a highly unusual opener.

Near Left: Another Joe Young entry, a Coca-Cola corkscrew that looks to me to be a tap handle with a corkscrew added. Joe was confident it was legit but the handle looks just like a tap handle and maybe it was a promo piece for some inventor?

Tribute to Oliver "Ollie" Hibbeler

Ollie was a "walking" and "talking" hospitality room for JFO. He was one of the early members (#149) and his love of openers (beer and soda) was shared with many other interests. Included in those were fishing collectibles, Indian arrowheads, Missouri collectibles, St. Louis collectibles and just plain "neat stuff". He was one of the original "junkin" people, a person who loved flea markets, antique malls and antique shows. He was always finding the "unusual" and many times would ask "what is it?". He stumped many a collector with some of his finds. Last and not least was the love of his life, his wife Shirley. As he always said about the JFO Convention "BE THERE!" and so we are at Cedar Rapids for JFO #33.

1) P-88s Burton Brewing and Terre Haute Brewing: Ollie's main passion in JFO was finding "beer advertising corkscrews". His collection was outstanding and by far the best known (the family is keeping his collection of wire corkscrews). These were two he needed and we were working on a trade for San Antonio.

2) N-32 Budweiser fishing lure/opener: Ollie loved fishing and collecting fishing lures and gear. The N-32 was one of his favorites since it combined his two loves.

3) P-5s Anheuser-Busch and Western Brewery: His main areas of opener/corkscrew collecting were anything Anheuser-Busch, Missouri, and the St. Louis area. The P-5 A-B is in fabulous condition (in a trade from Herb Danziger) and the P-5 Western was one I found on the streets of Gettysburg in 1988, sold to Ollie for $50 at the Frankenmuth JFO convention in 1989. He traded it back to me in 2008 on a deal for a P-1-18 Winkelmeyer. The last time we ever traded.

4) D-15-1 Red Feather: One of the most desirable St. Louis beer openers and one Ollie chased for many years. (Shirley kept his example).

5) Cigar Box Opener "Hibbeler Cigar Co": Ollie's father operated a cigar company in St. Louis and this opener is from that company (back side has "El Sanita 10c").

6) A-13 "Gotter Trunk": Ollie found this and was hoping it would be "listed". I was told by a Detroit antique dealer that Otto Brick owned a bar near the Ford Motor plant in Detroit. Employees from Ford frequented the bar and sometimes Henry Ford would drop by and pay the tab for his employees. A nice go-with but it is not an "official U. S. beer" opener.

7) G-19 "Rochester": The last opener Ollie gave me was at the JFO Detroit Convention in 2009. A very hard type to find and he really liked soda openers.

8) Keg Opener: One of Ollie's "what is it?": Fortunately I would not know except the piece on one side has "Keg Opener". Opposite side ad is "Hammar White Lead".

9) "Clough Piece": Besides making many of his beloved twisted wire corkscrews, this was a unusual twisted wire item made by Clough. It was featured in "Opener Trivia" but no one ever identified the item, so "what is it?".

10) Indian Arrowheads: Ollie searched for arrowheads most of his life and had a outstanding collection of local pieces (his son will inherit the collection). An Indian button that Ollie had in his "miscellaneous collection" and what else but a "Arrowhead Ginger Ale" bottle opener.

11) Dick's Beer Coaster: One of his "small mini collections" was openers and items from Dick's Brewery in Quincy, Illinois. Not sure what started this passion but something else to look for when he was "junkin".

12) St. Louis "Button" mirror, "Pup" paperweight and "Adding Machine" counter: Some of the many items from St. Louis that Ollie was always looking for. The mirror (from my collection) and the paperweight (Ollie's) were things he could find when he was "on the hunt". The adding machine counter was just a neat 1903 patented piece I am sure was found in a "junk box".

13) Shirley: the other half of the fabulous couple from the "Lake of the Ozarks". Shirley married Ollie when she was 16 (and after having already dated his four brothers). Ollie was 23 and they were lifelong best friends and partners and she almost always went with him on his "junkin trips". They don't come any better than these two. Thank you for all of the great memories.

Above: Bob Stahly's third place winning display of "painted" wall mounts. I figured it deserved a full page. Bob is missing very few of the "O-2"s (rectangular shape) and only one of the "O-6"s with U. S. Beer ads and he has most of the known soda ad openers also. Included in the display are the known U. S. Beer cast iron openers (styles R-6 and R-8) with both variations of the Sprenger cast iron wall mount (one version is made of brass). Bob also threw in a Sprenger style at the bottom with no ad (a cheap knockoff made in Asia). Check the display carefully. If you have one he needs, Bob will trade heavy for it. The only problem I see is there is no room for expansion. So folks remember when you make a display, give yourself some room to add additional pieces. It is one super display and I know Bob was a little bewildered he only got third place. Next year you need to try harder Bob. You go to Arizona most years, just come on up to Vegas.

"Opener and eBay Trivia"

Amazingly listings did pick up this past quarter and saw a lot of good openers for sale. So my dire predictions of eBay slowing down were just in my imagination. In early June your editor started selling again on eBay. I have too many openers sitting around and beer shows are still fairly good places to sell openers and corkscrews. I just don't have the time and money to put into doing a lot of shows.

Ebay has made listing items and completing sales a lot easier especially printing out a shipping label and tracking who has paid and not paid. With that being said the "fees" are running on average 15% if the item brings $50 and up and below that amount it is close to 20% and I do offer free shipping which runs me about $2.00 on most items. For the most part I have been very happy with the results. So if you have some free time, a good camera or scanner to go along with a computer and most importantly some good openers to sell, give eBay a try.

A-004-016, Southern Select, 6, $65.00
A-004-016, Southern Select, 6, $90.00
Two different sales of the A-4-16 Southern Select provide a good example of a one time rare opener and it has now turned up several times and still brought a high price twice. Maybe those Texas guys do spend money.

A-015-035, Crown, 6, $84.99
A-017-021, Croaks (w/ 3 Misc), 6, $103.59
A-017-UL, Kewaunee Brewing Co Supreme Kewaunee WIS, 4, $179.59
Eagle (A-15) and lion (A-17) head figurals saw these three very nice examples sale with the unlisted A-17 Kawaunee leading the way. In just good condition, the price was a little high. It was followed by the A-17-21 Croak another tough Wisconsin opener that rarely turns up. Finishing with the A-15-35 Crown the prices for these last two are right in line with the current market.

A-021-155, Schmidt Coca-Cola, 6, $131.39
A great combination to find in an opener is one with Coca-Cola and a Minnesota beer ad. A-21 spinners rarely go above $100 but this combination drove this A-21 to the ending price of $131.39. I am pretty sure this ended up in Mr. Stambaugh's Minnesota collection.

A-028-UL, Kamm & Schellinger Arrow Beer (w/ B-32-1 Arrow), 6, $165.12
B-032-001, Arrow (w/ A-28-UL Kamm & Schellinger Arrow Beer), 6, $165.12
Jeb Burruss loves A-28 beer ad bottle shaped openers and he had to go high but with a rare B-32-1 Arrow paired with the A-28 $165.12 was not out of sight for the final result. He also really likes Kamm & Schellinger openers and scored two good ones at the same time.

A-029-026, Sugar Loaf, 4, $95.99
Another opener that at one time was highly sought after but again several have been sold on eBay and at shows. This one was in average condition and a mystery to me why it finished at $95.99. I was the lucky seller so two thumbs up from me.

A-030-999, Coca-Cola Bottling Co Sapula-Bristow (BIN), 6, $100.00
A-030-999, Coca-Cola Bottling Co Sapula-Bristow (w/ 10 Misc), 6, $104.05
A-030-999, Coca-Cola Sapula Bristow, 6, $141.39,
Three results are shown but your editor bought the two at around $100.00 and resold the lesser grade one for $141.39. This opener was in the $200-$250 category a few years back but several have been sold on eBay since the high price days and the current results are about where this opener should be.

A-999-999, (Car & Tree) Chevrolet R Miller & Son Kutztown PA Phone 110, 6, $385.00
This result is pretty mind blowing to say the least. The car and tree figural is hard to come by but several have been found over the years. A few have sold for under $100 and some up to $200 but $385.00. I have the same opener and in better condition than this one and it can be had for a lot less ($350.00).

B-002-UL, Beverwyck Beer Albany NY, 8, $332.77
Bill Arber loves the "B" brass openers and when this UL was offered for sale he knew he had to step up. There are many really desirable New York keys (B style openers) and being previously unknown led to this one going very high but it was in great condition. Congratulations to Bill for snagging a great opener.

B-011-001, Seattle Var A, 4, $113.61
A B-11 has brought much more in the past and the high end results have been ones in great condition. This opener was in good shape and the price reflected that. In today's market $150 -$200 seems to be the going rate for "Potlatch" openers.

B-018-500, Bluefield, 6, $112.50
B-018-999, Pepsi=Cola (Script), 4, $150.00
B-021-478, Clearfield, 4, $72.77
Three nice "key" openers, the two beer examples being hard to find at least in the Clearfield's case and the Pepsi=Cola B-18 rarely being offered for sale. For some reason a few examples of the Bluefield opener have sold this summer but this one was in very nice condition. This is one of those openers that rough condition openers turn up. The B-18 Pepsi=Cola key had just one bid at $150.00. Ebay has really put the skids on Pepsi opener prices as a rule.

D-999-ENG, Cat's Paw, 6, $53.53

"Opener and eBay Trivia"

The cast iron cat's paw opener is a neat cast iron figural and many of these have sold on eBay and the price is usually around $50. A nice opener to have in the collection especially if you collect cast iron.

E-004-193, San Francsico, 6, $142.27
E-004-999, Coca-Cola / Delicious & Refreshing, 6, $124.38
E-014-659, Hollywood, 6, $100.00
The first result shown was another mind blowing price. I had no idea that an E-4-193 was worth anything close to $100.00 much less $142.27. I am not saying it is common but desirability is low but not this time. The E-4 Coca-Cola opener was about on the money at $125.00. The E-14-659 Hollywood was only the third example I have seen and a lot of bidders were on it so $100.00 though not cheap for an E-14 but was warranted in this case.

F-003-999, Dr Pepper "The Friendly Pepper-Upper", 6, $170.09
F-027-UL, Sterling Beer , 6, $126.00
The Dr. Pepper F-3 is a rare one to find and the final price of $170.09 is a lot of money for a spoon opener but unusual Dr. Pepper openers have brought much more in some previous sales. The F-27-UL Sterling Beer is one I had to have and then once I got it I was asking myself "am I crazy?". It is a lot of money for a beer ice pick from a brewery that does not have a lot of followers.

FBOC-422, Amish Man, 6, $499.99
One of the most desirable cast iron wall mounts and the condition was average at best. I would never have thought this opener would sell for less than a $1,000. The few sales I have heard about or seen have been in the $1,500 to $2,000 range. It is a sign of the times for figural cast iron collectors.

G-001-051, Lubeck, 6, $81.50
G-010-006, Maltosia, 6, $150.00
G-010-999, C Campbell Coal 555 Lyell Ave Phone 547, 6, $150.00
You just never know with eBay. The G-1-51 Lubeck brings $81.50 this past quarter. In July I asked $40.00 for one in nice condition and got no bids. Timing can be everything on eBay and I guess some luck also. The G-1 is one of the harder to find G-1s but the $80 price is high, The two G-10 folding corkscrews prove that corkscrew collectors do not care about the ad on the piece, they just want the style. The G-10s bring the same price but the Maltosia is a nice Buffalo, N. Y. beer corkscrew.

H-002-999, Coca-Cola Lancaster PA, 6, $80.00
Another one of my June opener sales. H-2 Coca-Cola openers generally bring much more with town names on them and $80 was a good price for this one from Lancaster, Pa. Generic H-2s bring under $50 and town name ones $50 and up and over $100 when you have a really desirable one.

K-012-001, Lone Star, 8, $380.00
Even though this bar mount has seen numerous sales on eBay this one went for $380. Not in the $500 range as several have done but still a lot of money. Darvin Stilwell won the "Bill McKienzie Best of Show" award at the convention with a nice example and write-up.

M-003-006, Erin Brew (Yellow), 8, $216.49
M-003-020, American, 6, $145.05
M-003-040, Deer Park (Yellow & Case Dented), 6, $346.41
M-003-999, Electro-Chemical Engraving (Red), 8, $85.55
Some sliders went crazy this past quarter. Granted the ones listed above are very hard to find and if they were in great condition I could see the high prices but $346.41 for a dented case M-3-40 Deer Park (Yellow) is unbelievable. As a rule yellow sliders are the hardest colors to find in really good condition. The M-3 American is hard to find nice and the M-3 Electro-Chemical was is very nice condition and the price reflected that.

M-020-002, Star, 6, $102.50
The M-20 is a very hard style to find with any kind of ad much less a beer advertising example. Only two different U. S. beer advertising M-20s are known. The Star that sold was in above average condition and $102.50 was a fair price.

M-030-155, Hamms (MIB w/ Ice Pick), 10, $99.00
The M-29s and M-30s are plastic handle openers and generally sell for a few dollars. Add in an ice pick and most importantly a Hamms Beer ad and the price jumps to $99.00. The opener ice pick set was in mint condition but $99.00 for plastic? Art Santen is a millionaire.

M-073-005, Kessler, 6, $237.05
M-073-010, Kessler, 6, $196.91
M-073-014, Budweiser Becker (BIN), 6, $250.00
M-073-999, 1934 Chicago WFs, 6, $103.50
Corkscrew sliders are always hot items. Good U. S. beer advertising examples have been bringing $200-$250 depending on the ad. The Chicago World's Fair one brought $103.50 and if in nice condition that is on the money. Openers and corkscrews that involve color tend to be very popular with collectors.

N-036-UL, Leinenkugels City Club Old Style, 6, $135.83
N-999-CAN, (Single Blade Opener Knife) (Similar N-103) Kuntz Brewery LTD (Bottle on Back), 6, $179.50
A couple of knife results with the Leinenkugels knife realizing $135.83 because it also had City Club as one of the beer brands.

"Opener and eBay Trivia"

Thanks to our resident Minnesota collector, Pat Stambaugh, and many other serious collectors in the North Woods the prices are always high when the item sells especially if it is a UL. The Canadian knife is always popular even though a few have sold as it has a bottle design on the handles.

O-002-999, Lime Cola, 8, $152.50
An unlisted soda wall mount and not that Lime Cola is unpopular but not a lot of collectors in the Lime Cola arena. It was in great shape and maybe just a general wall mount collector wanted it. Bob Stahly said he let this one go to someone else as he is more interested in the beer advertising painted wall mounts (types O-2 and O-6).

O-005-018, Falstaff, 8, $112.06
O-005-999, Enjoy Red Rock Cola, 4, $112.76
O-005-999, Fresh Up With 7Up, 4, $79.00
O-005-999, Frigidaire, 4, $103.50
O-005-999, Glasco Brothers Coolers Muncie IN, 4, $167.56
O-005-999, Grapette, 6, $107.50
O-005-999, Orange Crush (Not Marked Reg US Patent), 6, $270.00
Many good sales for Starr X openers for this past quarter with the top lot being an Orange Crush opener not marked with "Reg US Patent" (pictured last issue). Notice it is mainly soda wall mounts that enjoyed the higher prices. I am not sure why the O-5-18 Falstaff went so high. It is certainly not a $112.00 opener.

O-006-008, Hamms, 8, $103.75
O-006-009, National, 8, $124.51
O-006-009, National Bohemian, 8, $179.57
O-006-999, Coca-Cola, 8, $127.97
O-006-999, Frostie Root Beer, 6, $110.27
O-006-999, Pepsi=Cola, 6, $128.17
O-006-UL, Red Top Beer (Pic of Top), 8, $81.99
The painted O-6 wall mounts had many very nice examples sold. The sellers of the O-6 and O-2 wall mounts mainly seem to be from California and Texas. One has to wonder if they have found a small pile as there have been several ULs and they have multiples of these previously unknown openers. Whomever it is, it was a fortunate find and the graphics on the openers have really been amazing for the most part.

O-017-001, Rolling Rock, 6, $180.30
The world is full of Rolling Rock beer collectors but the final result on this O-17 is simply crazy. This opener always sees a few sales each quarter and it has brought $100 at times but with so many being sold it is a $20-$50 opener at best. Remember they made more than one ten years ago.

O-505-999, Big Bill, 6, $355.00
O-505-999, Nehi, 6, $114.95
O-505-999, Nehi Bottling Co, 6, $149.29
One of the "king pin" Starr openers (long neck Starr) is the Big Bill. Rarely offered for sale, the final result of $355 was not that bad if you really wanted to own a Big Bill wall mount. The Starr Nehi appears fairly often and usually goes in the $100-$150 price range.

O-511-999, Coca-Cola, 6, $125.00
O-511-999, Coca-Cola, 4, $99.99
Finally for wall mounts is the Coca-Cola "Hoof" wall mount opener. Again an opener that has sold many times on eBay and several times around $50 and then these two sales occur this past quarter. One can only assume it is a very popular style with collectors.

P-002-999, 1893 Columbian Exposition, 6, $172.49
P-016-006, Walter, 6, $152.50
P-019-166, Zangs, 8, $132.19
The P-2 is the "Davis" U. S. patent is very common with no advertising and turns up often with U. S. beer advertising but is hard to find with the 1893 Columbian Exposition ad. The P-16-6 Walters beer knife was an item I sold and it is much harder to find than the Narragansett P-16. The P-19-166 Zangs was in great condition and ended up with a strong bidding Colorado collector. P-19s is one of the many beer styles that it just depends on the ad as the price range can vary greatly from a few dollars to a couple of hundred dollars.

P-025-003, Adophus Busch (MIP), 10, $400.00
P-030-999, Saratoga Victoria Water Monarch of Table Waters, 6, $582.50
The final price on the P-25-3 Anheuser-Busch knife even being mint was a heavy at $400. The P-25-3 turns up very frequently and many times is in outstanding condition. It is a nice looking knife just not $400 nice. The P-30 bar mount or "Beaver Tail" handle bar mount went pretty high for one with generic advertising. A couple of collectors must have liked the advertising and this style bar mount is somewhat hard to find.

Z-Corkscrew, English 1882 Holroydes Patent , 6, $3,044.00
Z-Corkscrew, English 19thC Hipkins & Son Single Lever Rack, 6, $4,065.00
Z-Corkscrew, French 1887 H E Delarbre Single Lever, 8, $4,000.00
Z-Corkscrew, German 19thC Pearl Handle Folding Legs, 8, $2,028.36
Z-Corkscrew, German 19thC Ratcheted Patent Corkscrew, 6, $2,153.00
Z-Corkscrew, US 20thC Syroco Golden Knight, 8, $2,136.11
Above are the higher dollar corkscrew results with most being rare patent models from various countries. The world has a lot of wine drinkers who have money and are not afraid to spend it for nice corkscrews. The Syroco "Golden Knight" result is a little down from recent quarters. It is still the Syroco corkscrew to own if you had to pick one.

"Opener and eBay Trivia" ("BIN" Buy-It-Now & "DNMR" Did Not Meet Reserve)

For heavy sellers on eBay this is the year that the Federal Tax law kicks in for PayPal. If you sell more than 200 items and receive more than $20,000 in payments then PayPal must report your social security number or Federal EIN tax number if you have one. It takes a lot openers to hit the 20K mark in money but just in case anyone did not know about this new tax law.

Finally I will close with one of the all time greatest miracles, Gary Deachman bought a computer. As I go to press he is actually on eBay looking for all of those rare openers and at some point will even start selling his stuff through eBay. Gary was one of the few holdouts on using a computer but has found how much fun it is just searching and looking at stuff. Even as I write this story my mind cannot comprehend this news. Watch out everyone, the Deach is on the prowl!

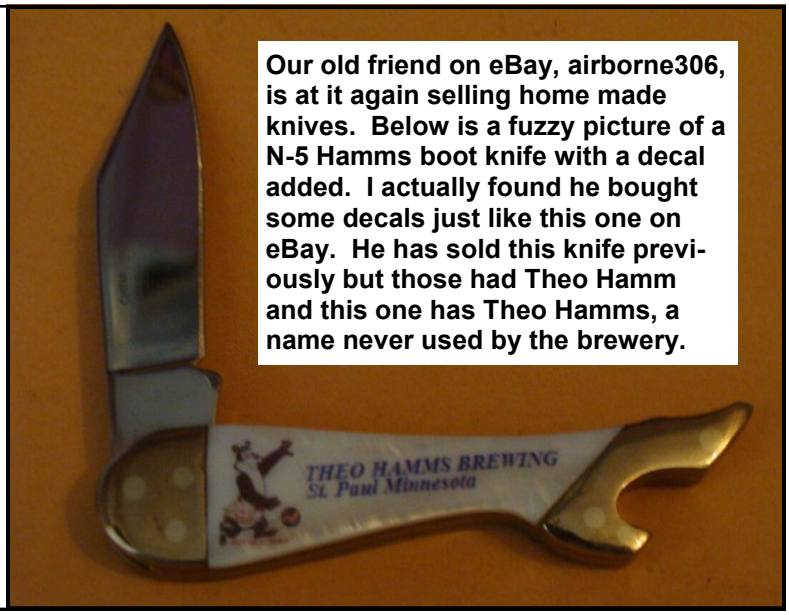
Jeb Burruss picked up a second A-15-24 Peoples and it is a variation to the one he had. This A-15 is somewhat hard to find but the brewery obviously ordered two different runs on the opener. Always check those doubles!



Our old friend on eBay, airborne306, is at it again selling home made knives. Below is a fuzzy picture of a N-5 Hamms boot knife with a decal added. I actually found he bought some decals just like this one on eBay. He has sold this knife previously but those had Theo Hamm and this one has Theo Hamms, a name never used by the brewery.

JFO Convention in Las Vegas April 18-22 2012 BE THERE!!!

At right is an ad for the "Ezee" Crown Puller wall mount bottle opener. Not known with a U. S beer ad, it is soda style O-518 which I call a "Ledge Mount" because of it's tilted construction. The ad is always placed on the opener with a "decal". See previous page about "fake" decal openers.

Below is a post card acknowledgement from the Vaughan Novelty Mfg. Co. sent to the Regent Square Bottling Works of Swissvale, Pa. I have not seen any advertising openers from Regent Square.

THE "EZEE" CROWN PULLER . . . . . is a "No Chip", "No Slip", "Sure Grip" and Real "Ezee" Decapper because:
1. Resilient,—"Springy" construction prevents bottle chipping.
2. The special Die shaped crown "Jaw" of hard, cold rolled steel, assures "Sure Grip."
3. The head of the ¼" case hardened holding screw depresses — "Dents" the crown - releasing its grip around the bottle—makes real "Ezee" decapping.
The "Ezee" is the "Best Seller", because of its Unexcelled Merit and Real Low Price.
PRICES—100 lot, $6.31, 50 lot, $3.36, 25 lot, $1.72. Less a discount for cash, as below:
