Newsletter Update

Comments have been favorable for the most part about some of the changes that have happened the last couple of issues. Cutting back on all eBay results has been a big help to me time wise. In the end I have usually included $20 and up in value items unless it is some of the frequent sellers that have numerous results. If anyone has additional concerns about the newsletter please let your editor know.

B-73-56 Sin City

Sin City Brewing Co. is a Las Vegas microbrewery that donated some items for our convention. A thank you to the brewery. B-73s are becoming very popular openers to collect as many micros use them and the graphics are great!

Flying With Openers Las Vegas Update

Just when I say it is no problem flying with openers, the Las Vegas return flight was time to do some security sweating. When we left Raleigh, security there just took my two large bags of openers and ran them back through the scanner. There was a short discussion as the bags passed through the x-ray machine, but they said everything was fine and to continue on. Leaving Las Vegas I thought it would be a repeat but then they asked me to step aside. A young security agent took both bags and carefully unwrapped each opener (I had them wrapped individually in paper towels). He looked at each one and by the time he was finished had a couple of bottle corkscrews and a couple of other small corkscrews set aside. I figured I might have to run out and ship these. He went to the head supervisor and fortunately that person said OK.

2012 JFO Convention #34 April 18-22 The Palms Las Vegas NV

The Las Vegas Convention has come and gone. Complete details will be in the July newsletter. Sin City did not let anyone down and a major thank you to John Cartwright for setting this up and bringing off a fabulous convention. John put a lot of time and effort into making the convention successful. As always the Stanleys (and a lot of Pat's efforts) were also in the background. Running a JFO Convention is not too hard but there are always bumps and grinds and in the end things almost always work out. It is now time to start thinking of Nashville for next year.

2013 JFO Convention #35 April 10-14 Holiday Inn Opryland Nashville TN

The January Newsletter was being printed when a contract was signed for Nashville. The 2006 Convention was a great success and Nashville is a central location for many JFO members. Nashville is known as the "Music City" and many events are planned throughout the year but the month of April is known as "Awesome April" with a musical tribute to the city that promises a major music event each weekend in April. The month offers something for every taste with art exhibits, sports, music, family entertainment and more (JFO Convention for one thing). So begin making plans to attend the 35th Anniversary JFO Convention.

Member's Update

While JFO was partying in Las Vegas our founding member, Don Bull, was in the hospital having a couple of ribs removed. He has recuperated fine and will continue on "thinning out" his corkscrew collection. He held the record for the highest selling corkscrew ever, $35,500 for the Read's Coaxer corkscrew, for one week until another corkscrew, a rare Robert Jones Registration, sold for $37,267 the following weekend on the ICCA Auction site.

Finally I am surviving well on the "gluten free" diet. I am doing much better but always finding gluten free when traveling is hard to do. Las Vegas went well diet wise and thanks for everyone who sent me concerned letters.

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

John asked me to write about what is involved in hosting a JFO Convention. Of course, I must put my own twist on it and change the topic to "Living with a JFO Convention Host".

Over 30 years ago, I attended a Stearman Biplane Club fly-in. Yes, I was young and fearless and took a ride in one complete with leather jacket, leather cap and goggles with the promise that they would not turn upside down. I know some of you are having trouble visualizing this!

The point is that the person who took me tried to explain the close fellowship of members in the Stearman Club. I thought I understood, but I didn't really understand until my first JFO Convention in St. Louis just how close people who love the same hobby are.

And so John has been dedicated to the annual convention for many years now.

When you attend a JFO Convention, you feel the closeness. When you Host a Convention, the attendees become family.

Years ago you would try to at least determine where the next gathering would be, so it could be announced at the annual meeting. Now John tries to get the next contract signed before the current year event, so location and room rate can be announced.

It is not enough to be getting all the details in order for the current JFO, packing up all the prescription food for the dogs to be boarded, packing ourselves and either planning how to take it all by plane or car...now we are negotiating and proofing a contract for a year off.

The contract brings out the different personalities in the Stanley household. Easy going John doesn't want to make waves putting some details in writing. Little Miss Auditor wants to cross all the 't's, dot the 'i's and get some of it in blood. After one nail biting year, I really would like to take a picture of the book where showrooms are assigned, but John would never go that far...so hopefully no more weddings will take place where we were suppose to have our Saturday show. Hope that couple is still happily married.

I always worry about the number of rooms John commits to as he can be held liable if the contract numbers are not reached. Please make sure to register with the group!! And if the event ever canceled, the hotel can come after him for lost revenue for the rooms and showroom that were reserved.

Some years I need extra color added to my hair before JFO!

We actually do quite well picking out the Convention Opener and Awards.

I handle the badges and usually don't disagree with myself!

The hardest part is watching John worry that everything won't go smoothly and members won't have a great time.

Here are some stories I could include in a book some day. It would be called "Be Open to Fun When You Host an Opener Convention". I can laugh now if not then.

When asked what I do for the convention, I tell people that I have done everything from plot directions to areas churches for members to attend Saturday Mass to taking a former drinker to the liquor store. (So glad he is a "former" drinker).

The year we brought John to St. Louis 10 days after surgery was challenging. He looked pretty rough and the doctor wasn't real happy about our plans, but I told him...if he doesn't get to go, we might as well line up depression therapy.

The first year we hosted the convention in Durham, John wanted me to show Southern Hospitality to all the guests from the Mid-West and North. He wanted me to make scratch banana pudding. In Canada we made pudding and refrigerated it for a night before eating it. In the South, they serve it warm. Those Southerners are smart! Will never have it cold again!!

I have his Mother's recipe which I've had to alter to fill a turkey roast pan full of my now famous banana pudding. We needed three pans to make sure everyone was able to take part in this new adventure in culinary delight.

Each batch takes 16-18 eggs and I don't like the little white stringy things, so they have to be removed. John worked with someone many of you have met, Roger Jarrell. I had done a few things with his wife Janice, but the day I had to make three puddings at once and deliver them warm, she became very dear to my heart.

This was the first year that the convention opener was a dog shape. Well, Janice and I were out shopping and I found a dog made of sequins that a person could wear on the front of a sweater or blouse. I asked to see the item and draped it on for size. I turned around to show Janice and her eyes lit up...what great fun it would be.

And so she and I arrived at the hospitality room, pans of pudding in hand with me all decked out and barking to announce our arrival. (I know another hard to visualize event if you had not been there to see it in order to believe it.)

Now John was in the adjoining room making a trade and didn't even come out to see what was going on (we had not let him in on our secret plan) until the trade was complete!!

The collar is framed and in my home office as a reminder of fun times.

The next year we hosted the convention in Durham again. This year Janice and I went way overboard. Again the convention opener was a dog (one year was silver and one was gold). One of us had the idea to cross stitch dachshunds for the awards. At that time there were only three awards thankfully. I'm sure the pattern had 50 shades of brown. I finished one head in a week, while Janice finished an entire dog. I went and got bi-focals, she finished all the awards plus one for each of us to keep.

That wasn't enough, we cross-stitched other things for a raffle, mainly using patterns from a book with all kinds of beer logos, etc. We framed some in addition to the awards. There were other things like towels, paper weights, etc.

Janice and I were having so much fun, but were rather tired. One night we were all going out for dinner, but first had to stop by the convention hotel to see the alternate room for the show because the one we negotiated for had not been entered in the books (this explains why I wanted to take pictures of the book mentioned above).

You are suppose to be able to brainstorm without anyone putting down your idea, but John had plenty to say about my suggestion that we use little round tables in the very small room we now had to deal with. John and I did not speak through the entire dinner.

I especially like airport taxi duty. My agreement with that red head was that I needed cell phone #s and airline and flight #s to do this and the passengers needed our cell #s.

I felt really bad that I never found one couple one year. The next trip out was to pick up my fellow countrymen, the Canadians. I really didn't want to come back empty again. Called John after second trip around plus some time in the cell phone lot. He couldn't understand why I couldn't find them as I knew what they look like. Well, hundreds of cars, thousands of people and an EMS vehicle in the middle of the lane by baggage pick-up did make it difficult. Fortunately the Canadians hoped John had not traded vehicles and spotted me and waved.

Other requirement before agreeing to airport taxi duty, is make sure the passengers know what you are driving!

In San Antonio (2010), the sky opened up just as we arrived for the final Saturday night dinner. John told me to get out of the car and help get guests into the restaurant. Well, I couldn't open the big umbrella, so you know how that turned out. I couldn't ring my blouse out like one member did.

But there was a rainbow that night, inside the restaurant. I turned around and one of the Canadians handed me the biggest, best Pina Colada ever, ever known to man. Her husband said she should have asked me first, but she told him, "she deserves it"...and so they bring me a bottle of Pina Colada every year.

After all this I still help with conventions even though the members did not even give me honorable mention when I brought a display to my 2nd convention I attended!! (at Frankenmuth, Michigan) I made a picnic basket and draped a red/white checked cloth inside. Inside was an adorable rabbit shaped loaf of bread and a bottle of wine. I attached my cross stitched banner that read "Did Anyone Bring an Opener?" along with the final touch, openers tied on with red ribbon tied in bows. John wasn't sure if they would let me enter since I'm only a spouse. Would have been nice if he had broken the news to me before all my work! They let me enter, they just didn't vote for me. All the Spouses were sure I would win. Wrong!!! It seems that the problem was that John didn't give me any valuable openers to display. Didn't trust my cute little red bows.

Yes, "Living with a JFO Convention Host" is a challenge, but the memories we have of the people who come to JFO are priceless.

We fly higher than a Stearman when we are with our JFO friends and some of us are getting to be almost as much of an antique, so don't miss any JFO Conventions!!!

Don Bull's rare Read's Coaxer that sold for $35,500.

John T. Haviland's U.S. "Corkscrew" Patented June 21, 1870
Joe Young

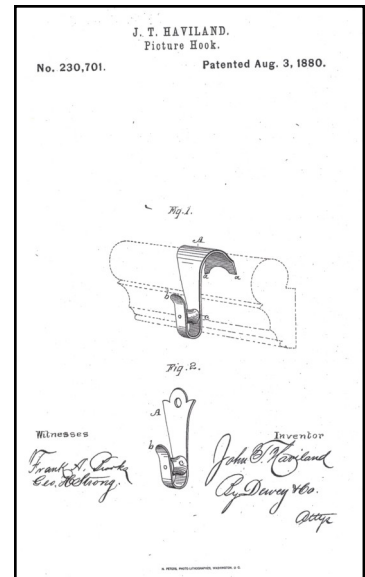

The patent (patent #104453) states that it was an improved instrument for removing twine and wire from the bottle (a champagne cork remover). Until recently I was unable to find anything about John T. Haviland. Then it all began to come together.

We initially presented this champagne cork remover in our Best 6 of 1997, some fifteen years ago. John T. Haviland was a very prosperous San Francisco merchant and businessman who had many interests. At one time (1869) he established a glass and crockery business – The Haviland, Hooper and Co. Later he was a land assessor. He was successful at racing horses. Still later on in life he was part owner of the California Casket Co. He even served as volunteer pall bearer and professional mourner at funerals when called upon. He also had extensive real estate holdings.

Besides his 1870 patent for a corkscrew, he also held patents for a bottle stopper (Patent #85,588 issued on Jan. 5, 1869) and a patent for a picture hook (Patent #230,701 issued on Aug. 3, 1880). A very altruistic enterprising gentleman indeed.

Because of his many other business interests, I don't believe that John T. Haviland had the time nor inclination to manufacture his champagne cork remover. Will and Finck, Price and Schnitz were his contemporaries in San Francisco with splendid reputations for manufacturing elegant household articles including corkscrews and champagne accouterments.

John T. Haviland

After rereading Bernard R. Levine's book, Knife Makers of Old San Francisco, I have come to the conclusion that Michael Price most probably was the manufacturer of John T. Haviland's champagne cork remover and wire breaker on a contract basis.

The Haviland champagne cork remover and wire breaker is made of high grade steel with walrus tusk handles and marked: J.T. Haviland Pat. Appd For

This Champagne cork remover is rare and the only one that I am aware of.

After a very successful business career, John T. Haviland died in July 1895.

Starr X “Icy-O” by John Eblen: I thought I’d write you about the Icy-O, O-005-999 you mentioned in the Ebay summer results since I was the one who purchased it and give you the rest of the story and present some facts about it. The opener on the left, in the photos below, is an original one and the Icy-O is on the right.

Once I received it and took it out of the box, it felt really heavy, more so than a normal O-5. In looking at it, things started telling me this thing was a fake.

Casting was very crude, especially on the backside, around the backstop area.

Thickness of the upper face (advertising area) was very thick, twice the size of an original.

There was evidence of a burr grinder being used on the backside lip where the crown cap engages the patented backstops. Half of the backstops were ground away.

Grinding marks are also seen on the fulcrum pad that meets the center of the crown cap, when opening a bottle.

You couldn't fit the crown cap in the opening (too small), therefore you could not even open a bottle with it. Note the opening size difference.

I know the numbers on the back represent the mold number, but numbers in the 200 range are usually found on blank openers made after 1943.

Lastly, the biggest issue also was this opener was non-magnetic and would not hold a magnet. Should be made of cast iron and magnetic.

About the Author of this Article, John Eblen: John collected some Starr openers many years ago and upon on his retirement three years ago and having time to clean up, he found the box of Starr Wall Mounts. It got him interested again and he has been very actively seeking any Starr openers he needs (check the current want ads). John has also been busy working on a book on Starr Openers, basically anything produced by Brown Manufacturing Co. of Newport News, Va. He is especially interested in all Starr variations. John and his wife, Marcia, visited our house recently. At the Las Vegas convention and again at our house he showed the progress he has made and it is tremendous. He can date Starr openers by the patent information with openers having "Pat Reg'd" being the oldest (pre-1936). John is always seeking additional information and if you think you have something to offer, please contact him (check membership listing this issue).

After checking it out, I contacted a friend of mine who restores Icy-O's and he sent me a photo of his reproductions that a local Virginia foundry made for him. All three of these in the photo are fakes. He informed me that restorer's, of Icy-O's machines, were getting these openers to complete their project's because they are so hard to find. He thought the one in question here, which he also owns, was for the countertop model, which is not correct. A Icy-O, O-502 is the correct one for a countertop model which came out in 1928. No way could a O-5 with backstops be correct. Personally I don't think Icy-O was still in business in 1943. I searched the web extensively and can not find much information on them after the 1930's.

I hope to warn other O-5 collectors to beware. The happy ending to this story is after contacting the seller with all of this, he refunded my money. I got lucky this time. This same opener appeared again on Ebay last month and was sold again. I don't know how much it went for (it was $300.05).

If you have any questions or comments on what I presented here, please feel free to contact me.

John Eblen

Right: "Early" Coca-Cola box only being offered for sale on eBay several times with price ranging from $125 to $1,250. Seller is NUTS!

My question is how could Art Santen live at 6126 McPherson Ave. in St. Louis since the early 1950s and not know that an opener vendor lived a couple of blocks away??? Art with the world's largest opener collection had a representative from the world's largest opener manufacturing company (Vaughan) living in his neighborhood.

Actually since the opener shown is from the 1930's-40's time period, the guy was probably long gone by the time Art moved in his house. Maybe Art can offer some additional history or knowledge. This opener was sold on eBay by JFO member, Al Wood, also from St. Louis.

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

Compared to past quarters eBay started out very well but when March came, the number of good openers offered for sale dropped way down. Supposedly sellers were not being charged more but eBay was pushing very hard for Buy-It-Now sales and for sellers to offer free shipping. Now if you charge for shipping you pay eBay a percentage of the shipping amount in addition to usual auction charges. Maybe it was that spring and summer are slower times but it was pretty amazing to me the drop off in quality. It was still a good quarter for overall sales.

A-004-026, Punxultawney, 6, $78.87

One of the desirable A-4 beer openers to find and it was in decent condition. The final price seems a little high but being sold near ground hog day may have played into the price being high. Elk Eun Brewing items are very desirable.

A-009-017, Schells, 8, $102.50

The Schells baseball player opener is not hard to find and many have turned up in nice condition. Even in average condition the A-9-17 always brings a high dollar amount and this one was no exception. As above Schell beer items are hot.

A-009-999, Coca-Cola In Bottles (BIN) (Real), 6, $350.00

Finally someone offered a “real” A-9 Coca-Cola baseball player and it sold quickly at the Buy-It-Now price of $350.00. With so many reproductions in the market place I am surprised this opener has held up in value so well. The A-9 is one of the most desirable of all Coca-Cola openers.

A-013-015, Rosenberg Malt, 6, $78.51

As usual my first thought was I did not need this one but I did and I bid too much for a malt opener. It is another one in my car collection and I am down to missing two malts and five beer cars. Completing the set will be extremely tough but it gives me something to chase after.

A-018-020, Fisher, 6, $124.00

A-042-021, Fisher, 4, $125.03

In the past I have sold a couple of Fisher beer fish and have never gotten this price. With good openers getting hard to find I cannot say these two sales are out of line. Utah openers are popular and especially if you are going fishing.

B-001-021, Fuhrmann & Schmidt, 4, $67.99

B-002-018, Iroquois, 8, $103.50

The B-1 F & S went cheap and I was runner-up. It is one of the tougher B-1s to find but was in below average condition. On the other side of the condition coin was the B-2 Iroquois. It was in great shape and the final price reflected the condition.

B-011-001, Rainier Var B, 8, $202.50

B-011-001, Seattle Var B, 6, $122.51

The same opener sold at two different times and as the custom for Rainier “Potlatch” openers, nice condition brings an excellent price. A grade 6 or very good condition is usually found for these openers and they seem to sell in the $125 range. Excellent condition brings $200 and on up.

B-018-UL, Tonawanda Brewing Co Rhein Gold, 6, $154.50

The first opener I have seen with an ad for Tonawanda (New York). The bidding was fierce and someone got a nice opener. Not cheap but then from a small town brewery and being the first opener discovered, the price was fair.

B-UL-UL, (Top Half of B-28) Hoster Columbus Gold Top Beer Columbus O, 8, $117.50

At one time I had a great Hoster-Columbus opener collection but have sold most the last few years. A B-28 is a combination bottle opener and cigar cutter. A couple of B-28 Howell & King openers have been found with the cigar cutter half missing. I assumed missing because they both had a rivet hole. This Hoster-Columbus opener was just like those two but with no rivet hole. I will make it a New Discovery and also add the Howell & King to the list.

C-001-004, Scheidt, 8, $78.77

For some reason the C-1-4 Scheidt can be found and is usually in great condition. This was another example of a nice one and the price was high but condition probably warranted the amount. Painted openers are hot.

C-013-293, Williams, 8, $90.75

One of my sales and why it went so high I do not have a clue. At one time several collectors needed this opener but everyone I know that needs one has it. It was in great condition and I was hoping for $30-$35 and it was home run time on eBay.

C-026-999, The Elton Waterbury CT, 8, $81.00

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

This is a very tough style to find and until this hotel ad showed up I had only seen the Sayre Beer ad. It must have been a corkscrew collector who wanted it to pay $81. Also this quarter a lucky JFO member from Iowa got the C-26-1 Sayre for $18 in a little opener pile. eBay is always full of surprises.

CBO-HT-08, El Santo Cigars St Louis, 6, $125.00

Most CBO prices have settled below $75 and every now and then one goes over $100. The reason for this one bringing $125 is a mystery to me. Maybe it ended up as a family piece and the style is hard to find.

E-004-244, Sequoia, 6, $79.01

E-017-005, Walla Walla, 4, $84.25

Two good wire openers that were sold this past quarter. The Sequoia is very tough to find and you know how I feel about E-17s. I just love that style and the Walla Walla is fairly tough to get. The lucky bidders should be proud and especially on the Sequoia.

F-006-999, Coca-Cola / Waynesboro PA, 6, $87.98

Many Coca-Cola openers are still doing well and the F-6 is a pretty hard style to find with a Coca-Cola ad. This price was reasonable but as a rule kitchen type openers are not as popular as other styles. I do like kitchen openers but have concentrated on the U. S. Beer ad “F” openers.

FBOC-428, Eagle, 6, $320.90

FBOC-429, Coyote, 8, $380.75

FBOC-429, Coyote (Repaint), 4, $127.50

Ten years ago these openers would have brought a lot more but a sign of the times for figural cast iron. Lower prices and really low if the condition is not there. I have a few and know I have too much money in them so I just have to be happy looking at the openers.

K-002-009, Lone Star (On Black Metal Stand), 4, $203.91

This K-2 Lone Star opener always brings the good money. I own one with a black metal stand (won the Bill McKenzie Award with it at San Antonio JFO in 2010) and this is the second one I have seen with the stand. The market on “K-2”s is almost always good. They are a very popular style.

L-001-999, Libby's Pear Nector, 6, $79.01

L-002-999, Famous Maple Leaf Pure Rye Eppstein & Sons St Paul MN, 6, $125.95

The L-1 can shaped openers have many collectors chasing them. The non-beer Libby Pear opener brought a nice price, so buy any L-1 shaped openers that are priced right ($10 and under). Just remember it is the bottle shaped drop down openers that have some many fantasy examples now thanks to our friend on eBay, airborne306 (see pictures). The L-2 corkscrew bottles have slowed down with few really good ads being offered the past year on eBay. The St. Paul, Minn. example shown was an ad I had not seen before.

M-003-040, Deer Park (Blue), 8, $325.00

If you have a slider and it is an ad for Deer Park beer then you have an opener worth a bunch of money. The Deer Park comes in four colors and regardless of which color is being sold, the market price is way up there. In the example shown it was in great condition and blue is one of the harder colors to find. For Deer Park the red color is the most common. The other three are tough to find, Blue, Green and Yellow.

M-019-002, Miller, 8, $133.50

What is it about the M-19 Miller muddler and the same applies for the M-19 Narragansett muddler. They are common openers and almost always overpriced. This Miller bringing $133.50 is insane. The Miller and the Narragansett should both bring in the $15-$25 range.

N-004-001, Haberle, 6, $127.15

My N-4-1 Haberle in super shape brought $41 and then an average condition one brings $127. With eBay you never know who is watching when. Usually condition wins out but in my case it did not. On the flip side I have sold many times with a second or third example of an opener on eBay and had the highest price paid. You just need more to go your way than do not.

N-UL-UL, (Celluloid Key Case for Keys w/ Generic Opener, Ad on Case) Billings Brewing Co Old

Fashion Beer, 4, $172.19

The celluloid key holder turns up fairly often and most times without advertisement. This oval shaped green celluloid key case advertised Billings Brewing Co. with a non-ad opener folding up in the middle between the celluloid top and bottom. The Montana collectors really wanted it, but I do not think a JFO member bought it. Pretty neat piece.

O-002-999, Glasbarrel Old Fashioned Root Beer, 8, $165.50

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

O-002-999, Kist Beverages, 8, $154.49

O-002-UL, Hamms Bear, 10, $274.00

O-002-UL, Hanley's Peerless Ale, 8, $111.38

Our “hidden bidder” sellers were busy again this quarter. Someone found the “mother lode” of Erickson wall mount bottle openers. Their supply never ends and a large number of Unlisted beer and soda brands. The four above were all unknown until they were first listed on eBay. In the case of the Hamms “O-2” the fourth place bidder at $200 was able to get one. So the sellers have found a treasure trove of painted wall mounts.

O-005-999, Enjoy Red Rock Cola, 6, $222.49

Red Rock Cola Starr X openers are always a hot commodity on eBay and so this result was not surprising. Interest has risen again for Starr wall mounts by Brown Mfg. Co. of Newport News, Va. JFO member John Eblen is working on a comprehensive book on all Starr wall mounts including variations. If anyone has information they would like to share please contact John (see membership directory for address information).

O-006-999, Buckeye Root Beer, 8, $163.59

O-006-999, Coca-Cola, 8, $192.50

The Buckeye Root Beer was another wall mount from the “Erickson Find”. The Coca-Cola O-6 was in great shape and $192 is high as several have been found the last few years. Condition made the bidding go way up.

O-008-999, Coca-Cola Westmore 6431, 6, $234.49

After saying how crazy some bidders have been on eBay, I decided to join in on the O-8 “Plate Opener”. I had 12 different Coca-Cola “plate openers” and wanted this to be number 13. It became the thirteenth but $235 is crazy no matter what town, city or state is on the opener. As I have said many times in the newsletter, it is only money. As former JFO member, Marc Benjamin, used to tell me, “I can get more money but good openers are hard to come by” (Pat says so are wives).

O-505-999, Big Bill, 6, $350.00

O-505-999, Big Bill, 6, $202.50

O-505-999, Big Boy, 4, $194.57

O-505-999, Big Boy, 6, $250.00

O-505-999, Lime Cola (BIN), 8, $750.00

O-505-999, Mavis, 8, $250.00

O-505-999, Mavis, 6, $168.28

O-505-999, Mavis, 2, $225.00

Most of the above Starr wall mounts openers were from my collection. I needed one long neck to get the known soda set, a Saegertown. It was time to give up the chase. The Lime Cola was bought by a Texas collector. No one seemed to want to pay the $750 asking price but that person pulled the trigger. The Big Bill was a high dollar one at one time but several have been sold on eBay (in fact one sold at Vegas for less than $200). Check out the article in this issue written by “Mr Starr”, John Eblen.

P-002-001, Greenways, 4, $140.50

Josef L’African has been chasing Davis corkscrews hard. He has one great collection after a little help from your editor and several trades and buys he has made on eBay. He added the P-2-1 Greenways and now has several beer advertising Davis corkscrews.

P-026-004, Strohs (BIN), 8, $750.00

P-026-012, Anheuser-Busch (Green & Gold), 6, $626.66

The P-26-4 Strohs was another item I sold on eBay. Like many other openers and corkscrews now being sold on eBay, the prices have been up and down. This knife was in great condition and one of our serious knife collectors bought it. The P-26-12 Anheuser-Busch knife was one of the champagne pattern knives that is a much harder handle color variation to find. It was in average condition but sold for an excellent price.

Z-Corkscrew, English 19thC G Twigg's Patent (Large Bronze Slotted Bell), 6, $2,455.82

Z-Corkscrew, French 18thC Fancy Iron Cage (Bought by Seller at Local New Hampshire Antique Show for $10), 8, $6,250.00

Z-Corkscrew, French 18thC Traveling Ornate Bow/Case Corkscrew, 8, $8,226.86

Z-Corkscrew, French 19thC Perille L'Extract, 8, $6,166.00

Z-Corkscrew, US 1876 Williamson Power Cone, 6, $262.00

Z-Corkscrew, US 1878 Sperry Patent (Wood Handle Lever), 8, $3,150.00

The ICCA Auction is the happening place for great corkscrews but eBay still produced several nice results this past quarter. One was the French fancy iron cage, bought the day before it was listed at a local New Hampshire antique show for $10 and seven days later the seller ends up with $6,250.00. I will end with my usual comment, good corkscrews are still strong but the price drops down for corkscrews under $1,000.00. Corkscrews that were strong in the $500-$1,000 range are seeing some bargains as too many have been offered for sale to handle the demand.

B-18-UL Tonawanda (first beer opener found from this NY town) (sold for $154.50). Right: CBO-PKT-10 Smokecraft Segars (sold for under $10 on eBay).

Below: Our "Erickson Find" friends on eBay sold another unlisted O-6. They just keep churning these out. It had to be one heck of a discovery and is looking like a warehouse full was found of O-2s & O-6s.

Below: Our friend, airborne306, hit another home run with a fantasy label drop down bottle advertising Sebewaing Stock Ale bringing $128.00. Bottom Right: I agree with Jeb Burruss that this L-4 Jax is most likely a fantasy opener also. I have seen one other but be very leery of L-4s with foil labels.

Editor's B-14-35 Monroe Bought on eBay and Lost in Mail (Somewhere in Utah) with Seller's Reply

John, you gotta be kidding me??? If things get much worse, I don't know what the hell I'm gonna do. I sent that sucker USPS First Class on the 8th of April. It should have been there in 3 days tops. The packaging, I can't be certain, but I believe it was a small yellow padded envelope. Well one good thing, I insured it so I guess let the game begin. Ain't been a good week as my mother passed away Sunday and laid her to rest today. Monday I lose my Top Rated Power Seller Status here on eBay. I sold some a__hole 2 used gas cans and instead of letting me know he wasn't happy so I could fix it, he gives me neutral feedback with 2 stars in the item as described category. So that ends my eBay selling with 293 buyers that didn't leave me any feedback and 425 positives all wiped out with 2 neutrals and 1 negative feedback. True story, WoW, John sorry for venting. I'll get working on it in the morning, and I will keep you posted.

Editor's Note: It is a true story and I eventually got my refund of $27 but only after his PayPal refund bounced.
